Americans Plan to Leave For Minsk Tomorrow on Return to This Nation

MOSCOW, July 8.—(UP)—James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, American fliers whose attempt to beat the round world record of Post and Gatty ended in a forced landing near Borislov Thursday, today preparatory to leaving for Minsk tomorrow.

Both were anxious for their friends and relatives in the United States to know that they are alive and well. They suffered no injuries.

Immediately after their forced landing they contacted the workers on a state farm nearby who gave them first aid and food. They experienced some difficulty on account of the barrier of language, although local officials were doing everything in their power to assist them.

They were put up at the only hotel in Borislov, a town near the Polish frontier of 25,000 population. The attempt of Mattern and Griffin to beat the record of Post and Gatty ended at dawn Thursday in a rain storm when the fliers crashed in a forced landing near Borislov.

Missing 37 Hours

No word of the fliers had reached the outside world for 37 hours—since they left Berlin Wednesday night.

The fliers had completed half the third lap of their schedule, the projected non-stop flight of 10,000 miles from Berlin to Moscow, when their controls jammed soon after they crossed the Russian frontier. They were forced to come down in Soviet territory near the Polish frontier. Their machine was wrecked. The men received only superficial bruises.

All hope had been abandoned here that the men would reach Moscow, when they were almost 30 hours overdue. A careful check by Soviet officials to the east, and by air line officials between Moscow and Berlin, brought no news of them. The "Century of Progress" should have followed the lighted airway to the east Prussian frontier.

SENATE DEMOCRATS MEET OVER RELIEF

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Senate Democrats adjourned their conference today without reaching an agreement whether to support Speaker Garner in his dispute with President Hoover on the $2,122,000 relief bill.

The conference was called by Minority Leader Robinson. He announced after a session lasting almost two hours that "no definite decision has been reached on the action to be taken on the conference report."

The meeting will be resumed tomorrow morning. The report, which passed the house yesterday, was not taken up in the senate today, Robinson said.

REACH AGREEMENT OVER WAGE SLASH

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—A modification of the 14% per cent wage reduction plan for state employees was virtually assured today by Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance.

Following a star-chamber session with state constitutional officers, Vandegrift said a concrete program clearing the controversy which grew up around the original five-day week plan would be submitted to Governor Rolph when he resumes conferences on the question next Tuesday.

"There undoubtedly will be some modification of the original administration plan," Vandegrift said.

SENATOR BORAH WILL NOT BACK GOV. ROOSEVELT

Idaho Solon Will Announce Course He Will Pursue Within Few Days

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is fast becoming a "man without a party" in the presidential campaign.

The Idaho Senator announced recently to the Senate that he could not support President Hoover because of the Republican party's prohibition reorganization plank. Today he made it plain that he would not, on the other hand, bolt and support the Democratic ticket headed by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, the course which has been taken by one of Borah's associates, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska.

The Idaho Senator will make known in a few days just what course he will pursue. He turned down the prohibition party's offer to head its ticket. There were reports Borah would take the stump for dry candidates for Congress in the coming election. But he said today he is more interested in economic issues.

All talk of a third party built around economic issues revolves around the magic name of Borah. But the Idaho Senator indicated he was paying little attention to third party talk, though he said "people are disgusted with the old parties."

Talk of a possible bolt to the Democrats by Senator Hiram Johnson was revived by a conference here between the California Republican and William Gibbs McAdoo, who is taking a prominent part in the Roosevelt campaign and also is running for the Senate in California against Senator Samuel Shortridge, Republican incumbent.

Both denied their visit was anything but "social." Johnson recently issued a statement praising Roosevelt, but whether he will go any further than that remains to be seen. He offers no enlightenment, except to suggest he may have something further to say as the campaign develops.

"SLAVES" ARE SOLD IN HUMAN AUCTION

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(UP)—One dozen willing "slaves" had jobs in Los Angeles today as the result of a human auction conducted in the Plaza, a downtown public park.

The services of men and women were offered to the highest bidder by Col. Louis Byrns, welfare worker who was said to have conducted a similar auction for returned soldiers in Boston immediately after the war.

Vivian Roberts, "strong, healthy, with plenty of character and brains," was "knocked down" to Joseph Roller, candidate for the state assembly, who employed her as his secretary.

Lauding the important points of each as they mounted the improvised auction block, Col. Byrns hammered his subjects into jobs, the pay of which ranged from 35 to 55 cents an hour.

ACTION ON REPEAL BLOCKED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Action on the Barbour resolution for repeal of the 13th amendment was blocked in the senate today by Senator Norris, Rep., Neb.

Norris, charging that Senator Bingham, Rep., Conn., was "filling something he wants in order to filibuster something he does not want," talked until 2 p. m., when the Home Loan bill, which Bingham is attempting to attach a rider regarding beer, took precedence before the senate.

Beethoven In Baggy Pants Gets Approval

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(UP)—A statue of Ludwig Beethoven, noted composer, which will gaze down upon the multitudes which throng Pershing Square, will wear baggy pants, and nothing can be done about it.

A plaster cast of the statue, displayed before the municipal park board, after the Municipal Art commission had agreed it was an heroic figure indeed, was finally approved today.

Objections had been made to the hang of the pants on the Austrian composer—"too baggy," had been the general verdict. The statue is to be dedicated to William A. Clark, Jr., son of the late senator from Montana, in recognition of his patronage of Los Angeles music.

DISSENSION IN BONUS ARMY IS REVIVED AGAIN

Walter Waters, Commander in Chief Repudiated By His Own Unit

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Revolt against the leadership of Commander-in-chief Walter W. Waters flared in the bonus army today.

John Pace of Detroit, member of the workers' ex-servicemen's league, reportedly a communist-fostered organization, organized a parade to the capitol today. Waters pleaded with the veterans not to join in the demonstration. Strong police escorts were provided for the parade.

Pace said he expected representatives of congress to meet him on the capital steps and listen to their demands for food and immediate payment of the bonus. If they did not, he declared his

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—Sacramento's "police blotter" went into a dead heat today.

NO HOPE HELD OUT FOR CREW OF SUBMARINE

French Undersea Cruiser Located in 230 Feet of Water Today

CHERBOURG, France, July 8.—(UP)—All hope for the 63 men aboard the submarine Promethee when it suddenly sank in the English channel yesterday was abandoned today.

Only seven survivors remained to describe the worst submarine disaster in French history. Standing on the decks, they were hurled overboard into the choppy waters that swallowed the French navy's new undersea cruiser.

Searchers found the submarine lying in a deep hole on the channel bed in 230 feet of water. A telephone from the submarine, one of the devices released automatically in the event of trouble, was found floating on the surface of the water and led to the discovery.

Divers went down immediately, but the position of the submarine left little hope that it could be raised.

Microphones lowered near the hull, recorded no signs of life inside the ship.

The ship had gone down within two minutes—so quickly the radio operator didn't have a chance to flash word of trouble.

Lieutenant Gouespel Dumesnil, commander of the submarine, told Admiral Malavoy:

"About noon, I heard a noise above me. I rushed to the deck and felt the ship literally sinking under my feet. I was immediately blown into the water with the six other men on deck. I fear the craft sank so fast there was little chance for those below to extricate themselves."

The men, stunned by the explosion, agreed to share the two life belts. Three men hung to one belt and four to the other. Each man took turns holding on to a belt for the belts were not

FLIGHT COMMANDER KILLED IN CRASH

RIVERSIDE, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—Lieutenant Hugh C. Minter, commander of the 73rd pursuit squadron, March field, was killed today and Lieutenant John Merritt was seriously injured when two army planes collided at an altitude of 2500 feet over the town of Perris, near here.

The plane carrying Lieutenant Minter was cut in two parts by the impact. Minter's body, found in the wreckage, also had been severed.

City To Net $40,000 By Drastic Cut

Reductions Will Range From 10 to 33 1-3 Per Cent Reports Declare

A GENERAL CUT in salaries of all city employees which will range from 10 per cent to as high as 33 1-3 per cent will be adopted by the city council at its meeting Monday night, as an economy measure, Mayor Paul Witmer announced today.

The cuts will net for the city approximately $40,000, through the fiscal year.

The city council held an executive meeting at noon yesterday at Ketner's cafe, at which time various items on the proposed budget were discussed, and while several suggestions were made and discussed, no definite action was taken. Witmer said it would be two weeks before the budget was balanced and finally passed.

The salary cuts, all of which are to take effect as of July 1, the beginning of the city year, will be made by the council in the form of a minute order.

No set rate is being placed on any city department for the salary slashes, the cuts being made according to the various city jobs.

SAVES OWN LIFE BY THINKING QUICKLY

PASADENA, Calif., July 8.—Quick thinking on the part of field officer C. Jerry Jones, 42, of the Pasadena humane society, saved his life when he was bitten by a rattlesnake today.

Jones was hunting for illegal steel traps in the Big Santa Anita canyon today when he was bitten on the left wrist by the rattlesnake.

With a penknife, Jones slashed his wrist, sucked out the venom, and applied a tourniquet, then walked two miles to the Fox ranch where he was given first aid treatment.

Jones then drove seven miles to the Pasadena receiving hospital where he was given an anti-venom inoculation. He will recover.

AIMEE'S CONDITION IS REPORTED WORSE

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, noted evangelist, has suffered a serious relapse at Lake Arrowhead, her husband, David L. Hutton, told newspaper men today at the trial where Myrtle St. Pierre is suing him for $200,000 breach of promise.

Hutton appeared in the court room as final arguments in the case were under way. He was drawn and haggard and explained that he had little sleep when his wife's condition took a more serious turn.

Mrs. McPherson-Hutton has been ill several weeks. She was stricken in Central America while she and her baritone husband were on a boat trip.

ALHAMBRA MAN DIES FROM PROSTRATION

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—Terrible mid-day heat caused the death of Norman T. Riley of Alhambra, at Coyote Wells, it was learned today.

Riley, a truck driver on a construction crew at the state highway being built between here and the Imperial Valley, died of heat prostration at the side of his brother, Lesley, as the latter was rushing him to a hospital here.

CALIFORNIA CREW DEFEATS COLUMBIA

WORCESTER, Mass., July 8.—(UP)—California and Pennsylvania A. C. won their way into the finals of the Olympic eight-oared crew trials today when they went to victory over Columbia and Yale, respectively, in the semi-final heats on Lake Quinsigamond.

They will meet in the final race tomorrow. The winner will represent the United States in the Olympics.

California defeated the powerful Columbia graduate crew by slightly more than one length in the first heat and Penn won over Yale by a length and a half, going away in the second heat.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING YOUTHS

REDDING, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—Search for Thomas Halcomb, 17, which has cost the lives of three persons late yesterday, continued today.

Mr. and Mrs. George Halcomb and Ollie Ross, 48, pilot, all of Redding, were burned to death when the plane in which they were hunting for the missing youth crashed near here and burst into flames.

Witnesses said Ross apparently was preparing to land from an altitude of 200 feet when the plane went into a tail spin, bursting into flames as it struck the ground. Halcomb was 25 and his wife, 33. They are survived by a three months old baby.

Hope Expressed This Nation to Scale Down or Cancel Europe Payments

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, July 8.—(UP)—The war debt question has been settled by Europe and Germany has finally been relieved of all but a shadow of the heavy burdens of reparations.

The nations at the international debt conference agreed today to postpone further payments until prosperity returns, in the hope that meantime the United States would act towards scaling down or cancelling the payments due it from Europe.

The European nations' payments to the United States, due to be resumed this autumn in view of the expiration of the Hoover moratorium, are not affected. They may, however, be temporarily suspended under the terms of the debt agreements reached individually with the United States.

Germany, which has asked originally for the staggering sum of approximately $65,000,000,000, is obligated under the present agreement to pay a comparatively trivial sum. Germany agreed to pay 3,000,000,000 marks ($14,000,000) due to a general fund for the financial reconstruction of Europe. The money would be put up in the form of bonds, to be issued from three to 15 years from 1932, if not issued when 15 years have elapsed they will be erased automatically, and dropped forever. It was agreed that they would not be issued within the next three years, even if prosperity returns.

CHARGES POLITICS RULE PENAL POSTS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(UP)—Miss Alicia Mosgrove was to relinquish her post as superintendent of the new women's penal institution in the Tehachapi mountains today.

Criticizing the state parole system, Miss Mosgrove made known her resignation here last night.

"I can see no hope of obtaining a trained personnel for the institution under the present system," she said. "The appointments would all be political job holders and not under civil service."

Miss Mosgrove declined to elaborate on her charges that the state's parole system was "inefficient and bungling."

VERNON, Tex., July 8.—(To The Editor of The Register:)

No papers way out here on the prairie where I am, so I don't know what has happened. By golly, the people way out on farms and ranches, where people make a living off what you are supposed to make it off of, why it don't make much difference what happens. The "market" could have closed strong or closed forever, and it wouldn't matter to a big bunch of Americans. It sure is a lot prettier sight to look at thousands of white-faced cattle than thousands of bald-faced delegates in one corral howling like mad, and milling for nothing. They brand the cattle so you can tell 'em and have to put hand-axes on the delegates so there's not much difference after all.

SEARCH SPECTATORS FOR GUNS AT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(UP)

A touch of "gangster" trial procedure was added to the drama of Myrtle St. Pierre's breach of promise suit against David L. Hutton today, when all male spectators were searched for weapons as they entered the court room.

Six extra guards, all conspicuously armed, were posted around the court room of Superior Judge Lester W. Roth, who yesterday received an anonymous note threatening the life of Mrs. St. Pierre should the judge fail to instruct the jury to return a verdict in Hutton's favor.

Women spectators, however, were not searched, although they were carefully scrutinized by a police matron, who opened several parcels to make sure no weapons were concealed. The entire day today was to be devoted to final arguments, following the completion of testimony yesterday.

against him is distinctly on the wane. There is practically no enthusiasm, but a general disposition to give him a fair hearing. The hope of Roosevelt radicalism has no real influence here.

The airplane trip to Chicago is seen as a smart political gesture. So is the acceptance speech.

The speech is interpreted locally as telling the radicals: "I am the nearest approach to a radical you can get so you had better vote for me." At the same time it tells the conservatives that there is nothing serious to worry about.

Certain parts of the speech have met widespread acceptance here. This applies particularly to the passages dealing with repeal and reorganization. Treatment of the farm mortgage problem also received more sympathy than might have been expected.

The inside dope in New York is that William Randolph Hearst played a much larger part in the nomination than is generally supposed. There are signs in some quarters of an attempt to build up a new Hoover sentiment. Some of the earlier Hoover-baiters are trimming their sails. The line is that Hoover made his mistakes back in 1930 and 1931 and that he is now acting as a president should act. Particular reference is made to his anticipated veto of the present relief bill.

CAMPAIGN FUND

The Republican war chest is still in a sad state. The Democrats are not expected to have so much trouble. Some of those who laid it on the line for Wilson and Cox are expected to come to that again. The names of new men for Democratic financing are also frequently mentioned in this connection.

There is also a persistent report that Newton Baker will do some quiet work to help along the cause.

RAILROADS

Publication of the salaries of railway executives by the Interstate Commerce Commission will furnish fodder for the Democratic donkey. New York has the impression that General Atterbury is thinking unkind thoughts about the I. C. C.

Wisconsiners are plentiful about certain details of the list. The president of the Missouri Pacific is listed as receiving $105,167. Wall Street can understand the last three figures but wonders what the first three are for. It also wonders what the president of Santa Fe thinks about when he sees how much the president of Frisco gets.

STOCK MARKET

The nomination managed to stir up a faint semblance of activity on the stock exchange. Brokers are extracting what crumbs of comfort they can. They believe the downward impetus will not last long.

There are rumors current that L. F. Loree for the Delaware and Hudson is going to take a big-time shot on the buying side of the market. It seems unlikely. There is always the most potent reason to what he would use for money. D. and H. is supposed to have 50 million dollars in liquid form but there are skeptics as to the degree of liquidity.

GERMAN BONDS

German bonds have been getting a strong play in the market which is not justified even by the better outlook at Lausanne. There will probably be fireworks here before long.

CONTEST CLOSES

MIDWAY CITY, July 8.—The contest which has been in progress in the Nazarene Young Peoples' society of the Midway City church has been completed. The side captained by Miss Guenivere McMillan was announced as the winner by a total of 80 points.

A business and social meeting of the society is scheduled for next Friday evening. Mrs. Charles Bickford, president, announces the meeting, which will start with a pot luck supper, will be held in the home of Mrs. Edna Robinson at Oceanview.

WORLD FLIERS FORCED DOWN IN RAIN STORM

tier at Koenigsberg, but was not sighted.

It was feared the fliers might have passed Moscow to the east and come down in some remote section. Some feared they had gone sufficiently north of their course to come down in the Baltic sea.

Supplies Ready

Soviet officials had waited at the Moscow airport with fuel supplies in case the men were found.

The fliers were 10 hours and 43 minutes ahead of the Post-Gazette time when they left Berlin at 9 p. m. (2 p. m. EST) Wednesday. Leaving New York at 4:01 a. m. (EST) July 5, they had flown to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, in 10 hours and 36 minutes, after overshooting their mark to the north and finally finding the airport through heavy rain and fog.

They were off from Harbor Grace for the Atlantic crossing after refueling and resting for slightly more than two hours. They headed their plane to sea in only fairly good flying conditions. Throughout the night of July 5 they were not sighted on steamship lanes. The first word of the "Century" came from civic guards who sighted the monoplane passing over northern Ireland, on July 6.

Mattern and Griffin had made the fastest Atlantic crossing. They were direct on their course to Berlin. They reached Templehof airport in the German capital at 11:42 a. m. July 6, completing the first non-stop flight from North America to Berlin and making their total flying time from New York 31 hours and 41 minutes.

They made time on Post and Gatty by staying in Berlin only three hours and 15 minutes. They left Templehof at 3 p. m. (EST), July 6.

The fliers were unreported from that hour until early the next morning, when Lithuanian aeronautical observation posts sighted the plane speeding east. Then the fliers vanished until they were found, with their plane wrecked, near Borisov.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED OVER REPARATIONS

actually be 3,000,000,000 marks but 2,700,000,000 ($643,140,000).

With the payments already made, in cash and in kind, Germany will eventually have paid less than one-half of the 100,000,000,000 gold marks which the German plenipotentiaries offered at Versailles and the allies scornfully rejected.

The 3,000,000,000 mark German bond issue will bear interest at five per cent and will be payable in 27 years.

The agreement ended a dozen years of international wrangling, during which the leading statesmen and financial men of the world met for weary weeks after weary week in the capitals and summer resorts of Europe. More than 40 such conferences were held, and even the United States, which refused to associate itself with reparations, was called in as an expert, to evolve the Dawes plan and then the Young plan.

Both plans died under the reluctant realization that Germany could not pay the sums asked.

The Young plan, last desperate resort of the harassed creditors, turned up its toes today when the nations buried it under an agreement by which Germany substitutes one bond issue of only $643,140,000 for the Young plan payments which should have totaled approximately $27,896,000,000 between now and March 31, 1938.

Original Bill

Eleven years and two months ago, the reparations commission presented Germany with a bill for a capital liability of about $33,000,000,000, exclusive of another $1,500,000,000 payable to Belgium, which if fulfilled, would have necessitated Germany's paying a probable total of about $32,000,000,000.

Lausanne liquidation means Germany will have paid a grand total of about $14,200,000,000, according to her own figures, although the reparations commission figures she has paid much less than half of that and the Washington institute of economics about two-thirds of it. The difference arises from various estimates of the value of ceded property, reparations in kind, etc. The Washington figures are probably the most accurate.

The reparations payments were gradually whittled down until the proposed bond issue represented what a generation of Germans yet unborn would have paid during the three years ending March 31, 1938, under the Young plan schedules.

Immediately after the war, David Lloyd George, then British premier, appointed a committee which included Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England; William Hughes, premier of Australia, and Sir George Foster, Canadian finance minister. They reported the central powers should make an annual payment of approximately $6,000,000,000, representing the interest charges on the whole direct cost of the war to the allies.

COUNCIL WILL CUT SALARIES AT NEXT MEET

payroll and where the cuts can be made, we are making them. In some instances the cut is as much as 33-1/3 per cent, according to the position, while in some cases all salaries will be cut as much as 10 per cent," Mayor Witmer said.

"There isn't any way to get around the cuts. We have tried to find other ways, but in order to provide the money the city has to have this year, salaries have to be sliced," he said.

The proposed budget must be cut some $23,000 in order to make it balance. So far, the council has agreed on $40,000 cut in salaries and $4100 cut in street lighting. This leaves a surplus of $11,100, and there will be a number of other cuts such as in the city band fund, advertising fund and other such funds, which will give the city the money needed, before the budget is approved.

Mayor Witmer said that the elective city officers also will be asked to take a cut in salary. This is optional with the elective officers, as the state law sets their salaries and does not call for a reduction.

BALL GAME OR NOTHING

EL PASO, Tex.—A baseball game will decide whether Chris P. Fox does not have to pay a parking fine, or whether he will pay double. That's the arrangement Fox, candidate for sheriff, made with Judge Charles Winderberg Jr., after Fox had received a fine for parking in an alley. The game in question is between the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

PICNIC PLANNED

WINTERSBURG, July 8.—The annual beach picnic of the Woman's mission society of the Wintersburg Methodist church is to be held next Wednesday at Alamitos bay. The president of the society, Mrs. J. R. Gary, announces that a speaker is expected to be on the afternoon's program.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is better just now that you do not know more than you do of the life beyond. You could not help losing interest in today (and thereby lessen your eagerness to fit yourself for tomorrow) if you could now contentedly gaze at the joys which God has prepared for you.
Just as the eye absorbs certain rays and excludes others to facilitate your seeing what you need to see, so your mind and heart are formed to grasp just enough of the glorious fact of immortality to fit you to play the man here and now.
Use what you have and trust God to help you to grow worthy of the deeper understanding and the richer joys on beyond.

BIDS WILL BE OPENED HERE SATURDAY A. M.

Bids for locating a contract station, which is a branch of the post office, will be opened at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by Postmaster Terry E. Stephenson, it was learned today.

Under government rules and regulations, individuals operating a private business can make application for the branch office and be granted the permit to operate by postal authorities in Washington, D. C.

The branch office will be located somewhere south of Fifth street and west of Sycamore street. It is understood that several merchants plan to submit bids for the branch postoffice.

Merchants who operate the contract stations must furnish the equipment for the office and the clerical work. Branch offices must carry regular post office supplies, such as stamps, envelopes, etc. The offices are empowered to write money orders, register mail and take in parcel post and C. O. D. packages.

The government, after entering into a contract with a private individual to operate the office, pays the individual not more than $50 a year.

FARM BUREAU URGES CITRUS PLAN BE HELD

Reaffirming their faith in the citrus prorate agreement and pledging their support on behalf of the 1300 citrus grower members of the Farm Bureau directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau yesterday adopted a resolution presented by Holmes Bishop, chairman of the citrus department, authorizing that group to act in any emergency.

The resolution authorized the citrus department and executive officers to act for the Farm Bureau in case an emergency decision is necessary in the event organizations that already have withdrawn refuse to remain in the agreement.

The resolution as presented by the citrus department and adopted by the directors follows: "WHEREAS, the activity and interest of The Orange County Farm Bureau in the Valencia orange prorate plan is the interest of its 1300 citrus grower members in increasing the returns from the 1932 and subsequent Valencia orange crops to the largest possible gross amount for the growers—

"WHEREAS, economists of the University of California have definitely proven that the systematic regulation of supply will yield a greater return per acre. There is unquestioned proof that the markets would consume as many oranges as they do today, at a price at least 50 cents a box more than at the present time, if all shippers could act in unison and demonstrate the fact that they could command the higher price. It is to be noted that because of the increased confidence of the trade through the operation of the prorate agreement, there has been a steady increase in returns;

"WHEREAS, it must be recognized that this agreement was drafted by growers who were members of several organizations. There was every effort made on the part of all these growers to build a workable agreement which would be fair to all;

"WHEREAS, it is unquestionably a fact that the growers, if given an opportunity, can work out all the differences of opinion and refine the plan so that the needs of all interests will be served without unfairness or inequality to any member of the agreement; THEREFORE, NOW BE IT RESOLVED, that this organization, The Orange County Farm Bureau reaffirms its belief in the necessity of the citrus marketing organizations remaining in the said prorate agreement, if the Valencia growers are to receive any profit; and, that we further declare our willingness to go to all reasonable lengths to cooperate in maintaining a stable citrus market; and should the organizations that have withdrawn refuse to remain in the agreement, that we request our citrus department and executive officers to act for this organization in case an emergency decision is necessary."

New Postal Rates Cause Heavy Sales

Employees at the post office in Santa Ana will have sore tongues soon if it is necessary for them to lick the 200,000 one-cent stamps that must be put on a similar number of envelopes in the post office to raise their value to the three-cent letter rate which has just gone into effect.

Private merchants and individuals must have a lot of stamp-licking to do, because on the first day after the three-cent letter regulation went into effect there were 25,000 one-cent stamps sold, according to Assistant Postmaster Plake Smith. The next day there were 24,600 sold and yesterday there were 20,500 sold.

So many three-cent stamps have been sold that the office is nearly out of them and are awaiting a new shipment.

Postal officials predicted that the postal receipts would run about 25 per cent more now that the rates on postage have been raised.

BANDITS TAKE TRUCK, $3100 IN CIGARETS

Jack Mitchell, Long Beach truck driver, employee of the Glenn L. Clark wholesale confectionery, was held up by three unmasked bandits, on the Westminster-Seal Beach road late yesterday afternoon, bound and gagged and his truck containing $3100 worth of candy and cigars stolen, according to reports at the office of Logan Jackson.

Deputies were sent out all over the county searching for the truck, but late today it has not been found.

Mitchell reported that he was driving along the road, taking a short cut, and was overtaken by three bandits. One of the bandits came around the side of the road. Three men were in the car.

After he had stopped the youngest of the three bandits pointed a pistol at him and while he held his hands up, the other two bound him and placed adhesive tape over his eyes. They then put a pair of dark glasses over his eyes. He was placed in the coupe and driven around for almost an hour, finally being pitched out of the car at the Pacific Electric railroad crossing at Hansen, 15 miles from the scene of the holdup.

Mitchell said that two bandits accompanied him on the ride, the third one taking the truck and contents.

His first service will be conducted at the church this evening when he will preach a sermon preparatory to the quarterly communion service which he will conduct at the 11 o'clock hour next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Kimmelshue also will preach at other services later in the month. He holds the position of superintendent of Iowa Synod of the United Presbyterian church.

SURPRISE IS INJECTED IN COURT TRIAL

The case of Carl F. Burns, member of a prominent Santa Ana family, accused on two counts in a grand jury indictment charging him with grand theft in connection with a stock deal in which Miss Pauline Weide and her father and mother, Henry and Justine Weide, parted with shares of Southern California Edison company stock and cash in exchange for allegedly worthless oil stock, is expected to go to the jury in department three of the superior court this afternoon.

Another surprise was injected into the case yesterday afternoon in connection with the deposition of C. G. Seamons, called as a defense witness. Seamons is ill at his home and court was adjourned yesterday morning to permit the taking of his deposition.

Burns, testifying in his own defense, had told the jury that the stock he offered for sale to Pauline Weide and her parents had been secured from Seamons. He testified that Seamons had told him that it was a good stock and suggested that he sell it either to his mother or to his grandmother. Burns testified that Seamons had said that he must have $2000 for the stock and that anything above that price would go to Burns. It was testified that Seamons was paid by cashier's check in the amount of $2000 for the stock.

In his deposition, which was not entered as evidence by the defense, but by the prosecution as rebuttal testimony, Seamons declared that he told Burns that the stock was worthless and asked him to inform a stock broker in Los Angeles known as Roth that if the $2000 paid for the stock was not returned to him, Seamons would prosecute the broker for misrepresentation.

According to Seamons' deposition Burns informed him that Roth would be in Santa Ana immediately to see him. Seamons said in his deposition that a man purporting to be Roth did call upon him and offered a check for $2000 in payment for the stock which was refused. Seamons said that he demanded cash and within half an hour Roth and others returned with the $2000 in $20 bills. After counting the money, Seamons said, he turned the 500 shares of Associated Petroleum stock over to Roth in the presence of Burns and one other man.

When shown the check which Burns testified he had paid Seamons for the stock Seamons denied having received it, and when shown his endorsement on the back declared, "That is not my signature."

Seamons, in his deposition also denied ever telling Burns to sell the stock to anyone except to Roth and denied ever having given the stock certificates to Burns.

EVANGELICAL ASSEMBLY TO OPEN SUNDAY

Programs and plans for the annual summer assembly of the California Conference of the Evangelical church, which will be held at the Evangelical assembly grounds at North Bristol and West Fairhaven streets, Santa Ana, have been completed. It was announced today by the Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor of the Santa Ana First Evangelical church. Conference will meet from July 16 to 17, inclusive.

Evangelistic services will be conducted every evening and Sunday. Edward N. Himmel, M. S. professor of education at North Central college, Naperville, Ill., will be the assembly speaker.

The assembly will take the form of a joint convention of the woman's missionary society, Sunday schools, Evangelical leagues, school of leadership training and a Bible conference. The Rev. E. Bursi, former pastor of the Anaheim Salem Evangelical church, is assembly president. The Rev. Mr. Matz is conference director of religious education and assembly superintendent and will take an active part in the assembly. Miss Mildred Mauchan, of Anaheim, will be pianist.

The assembly will not officially open until Sunday, July 16, with a breakfast, but delegates are expected to arrive Saturday at the camp ground. Sunday morning H. Ramm of Anaheim will have charge of the Sunday school with the Rev. L. M. Light, of Long Beach, teacher of the adult division. Miss Evelyn Bushart, of Ontario, will have charge of the children's division. Professor Himmel will deliver the assembly sermon following. Music will be furnished by the choir of the Santa Ana Evangelical church.

Following a dinner to be served at noon Sunday, the Rev. Bursi will deliver the president's message, after which Prof. Himmel will speak. Afternoon music will be furnished by the Anaheim church choir. After supper the Rev. Everett Schneider, of Anaheim, will take charge of a young people's meeting which will be followed by another message by Himmel. Music will be supplied by the combined Santa Ana and Anaheim choirs.

A full program of religious work has been arranged for each day of the conference, with special music arranged for each service.

DRAWS $250 FINE ON LIQUOR COUNT

COSTA MESA, July 8.—Lloyd Smith, of Twenty-third street, Costa Mesa, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, was fined $250 when he came before Judge D. J. Dodge yesterday, half of the amount being suspended. He was sentenced to spend 125 days in jail unless the fine is paid. The complaint was signed by Deputy Sheriff E. E. Perry.

41,826 MORE BOOKS TAKEN OUT IN YEAR

The story of how people flock to the city library in times of depression is well told in the annual report which has just been released by Miss Jeanette McFadden, city librarian. The circulation for the year ending June 30 totaled 285,157, a gain of 41,826 books over last year.

The biggest day recently experienced and what is expected to be the biggest day of the year, was recorded last Tuesday when a record-breaking total of 1661 books were issued from the main and branch libraries.

Adult books circulated during the fiscal year just ended totaled 274,022 while the books issued to juveniles amounted to 111,135. The average circulation of books in the library for the year amounted to 1255 and the average per capita percentage was 12.7, which means that if every person in the city enjoyed the facilities of the library they would have read nearly 13 books during the year. The average monthly circulation was 23,699. The largest month was in March, when 24,656 books were issued from the library and the smallest month was in September, when 22,274 books were taken out.

Add 3298 Volumes

During the year 3298 books were added to the shelves of the library and 1359 were discarded because they were worn or some of them were lost. This showed a net gain of 1939 books for the year. The library has a total of 42,870 books which are circulated and a total of 59,327 including the reference books. An idea of how many times the books were circulated can be obtained by comparing the amount of books in the library with the total circulation for the year.

A big gain was noted in travel, literature, biography and books on foreign lands, as well as magazines, during the year. It may be significant that a marked increase was also noted in books on economics.

Many persons have been and are reading now who have never used the library before it is revealed. Many are reading for pleasure but many are doing a lot of serious reading, Miss McFadden said.

During the winter it was impossible to seat all the people who came to the library. Many more came to the library this past year to read than the year before.

Branch Library

Residents of the south end of the city enjoyed good library service at a low cost by using the branch library in the Julia Lathrop school on South Main street, where a total of 60,559 books were circulated during the year. There are 3725 books in the branch library besides magazines and some school books. The board of education furnishes the room, furniture, magazines, heat, light and janitor service while the city library department supplies the books and librarian, as well as reference service for students of the school.

It is said that 10 per cent more people in the United States use public libraries the past year than ever before. California libraries have felt this increased call for their service and the strain on their resources, according to the California Library association. The great increase in reading, according to officials of state associations, mainly due to unemployment not merely in the laboring classes but in the "white-collar" classes, has not been merely recreational reading, although this does offer the easiest and cheapest avenue of escape from personal depression.

Demands Increase

"California libraries," the association officials said, "by studying every possible economy and by increased efficiency, have tried to meet this demand for more service with practically no increase of income."

"It is, however, now highly important that bodies preparing library budgets and those responsible for the appropriation of public funds realize the exceptional situation of libraries among city or county departments and in making adjustments between a legitimate demand for lower taxes and the maintenance of necessary public services, take cognizance of the fact that libraries are now as never before rendering public services of the most vital significance. Failure to realize this on the part of the appropriating bodies is, in some parts of the nation, producing disastrous results in the operation of institutions where many turn for aid in self-re-education and sustaining of individual morale.

"In connection with movements to lower salaries of public employees, it is customary to assume that all should be treated alike. However, this principle is correct only when pay levels of all are on a par as regards the normal. Librarians are uniformly paid less than other employees in both public and private employment."

LIONS CLUB HEARS STORY OF OLYMPICS

The Olympic Games, soon to be held in Los Angeles and vicinity, was the subject of a very interesting talk before the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday noon by Adam Leonard, of Los Angeles, associate of Dean Cromwell at the University of Southern California. The speaker traced the history of the Olympic Games from their inception in the year 776 B. C., as a result of the Grecian desire to honor their heroes, until the present day.

For 1200 years the Olympic Games were held in Greece, the speaker said, and were the greatest incentive for the great development of Grecian athletics, literature, and all cultural achievements. Special honors were heaped upon Olympic winners and they became national heroes and an inspiration to others. Without the Olympic Games, Grecian civilization could not have reached the high point to which it achieved, he said.

The Games were started as an exhibition of achievements in war, held at the graves of departed warrior heroes, and gradually expanded until they included all cultural arts of the people. After the conquest of Greece by the Romans, the Games were discontinued upon orders of the Roman ruler and were not held for many centuries.

The first revival of the Games came at Athens in 1896, as a result of efforts of a French nobleman who devoted his time and fortune to the effort, and have been held every four years since that time with the exception of 1916, when they were scheduled to be held in Berlin, the speaker said.

Winter sports, boating and horse-ship are among the modern additions to the Olympic Games programs, the speaker said, and in addition the host country is permitted to have a special feature depicting the most popular sport of that country. In line with this policy, a football game between Eastern and Western teams will be held at Los Angeles as a part of the Olympic program this year.

Yesterday's Lions club program was in charge of the athletic committee, consisting of Gilmore Ward, chairman; Lester L. Carden, Paul Wallace, A. J. Cook, Frank Miller and G. A. Oliver. Dr. R. A. Grover, of Santa Ana, entertained with his "one-man band" act, with harmonica, banjo and drum.

Next week's program, with W. M. Wells as chairman, will feature the District and International Lions club convention, to be held July 18-21 in Los Angeles, and in which the Orange county Lions clubs will take an active part.

APPROVES USE STATE FUNDS ON RIVER WORK

With Orange county supervisors refusing to enter into the "spreading" program on the upper Santa Ana river, word has been received in San Bernardino that a portion of the state fund appropriated for matching county money in the work may be used on the San Antonio flood control project in the west end of the county.

The San Bernardino board of supervisors has been notified by State Engineer Edward Hyatt that such appropriation of state money had the approval of his office.

This telegram from the state engineer clears all question as to San Bernardino county's claim for state money to match $400,000 which the supervisors authorized June 18 for work in the San Antonio canyon. It is recalled that on June 15 Attorney General U. S. Webb advised State Engineer Hyatt to have the courts determine the validity of the act of the legislature providing for the construction of flood control works on the Santa Ana river. Hyatt had asked the attorney general's opinion of whether the proposed "spreading" of San Antonio creek could be included in the act.

Webb held that this would be permitted "with a liberal construction of the act with authority to be granted to the unnamed governmental authority" to perform it. The state appropriation for Santa Ana river flood control totals $400,000.

Immediate expenditure of $900 is planned for excavating 5800 cubic yards in earth, $1100 for building an east gate at Osgoodby dam, $1400 for check dams, $650 for a lower gate, and miscellaneous sums for culverts and slide gates, is planned.

NEW GROCERY GROUP OPENS IN SANTA ANA

The first unit, which includes five stores, of the Independent Grocers' Alliance will begin service in Santa Ana tomorrow when a grand opening is staged, it was announced today.

The I. G. A. is now successfully operating in 41 different states under strict supervision of merchandising experts. However, each store is locally owned. The organization is a nation-wide group organized for the purpose of mass buying and collective advertising. There are more than 12,000 independent grocers in the alliance. The organization is headquartered in Southern California by M. A. Newmark & Co., pioneer wholesale grocers.

The following stores in Santa Ana have joined the alliance, each, however, will retain his own name and store:

J. N. Harper, 1042 West Fifth street; H. R. Griffith, 803 East First street; W. D. Hart, 827 East First street; Ann Jennings, 905 West Fourth street, and C. D. Reed, 202 South Flower street.

POLITICIANS TO GATHER FOR CUSHMAN PARTY

Democrats and Republicans alike will meet here from all parts of the county on Friday night, July 15, to attend another of the now famous "rump conventions" staged by leaders of the parties whenever there is a good excuse for so doing. Invitations were sent out yesterday calling the "delegates" to the convention which will be held at the American Legion home on Birch street. Reservations must be made.

The occasion this time is the appointment of Dr. R. A. Cushman, veteran politician and one of the best known physicians in the county, as medical director of the state institution at Talmage.

T. E. Stephenson, Santa Ana postmaster, will act as temporary chairman of the convention and the keynote address will be delivered by Stanley Reinhaus, who, it is understood has been working on his speech for the past several days. Politicians from all parts of the county will be present and considerable "razzing" is expected to be the order of the evening. Sponsors of the dinner are: W. B. Williams, J. M. Backs, James Sleeper, T. E. Stephenson, L. A. West, S. M. Reinhaus, P. A. Stanton and Judge James L. Allen.

DR. MOORE OPENS OFFICE IN CITY

Doctor Newell Moore, a newcomer to Santa Ana, is opening his office this week on South Main street, for a practice limited to diseases of infants and children, including infant feeding.

Dr. Moore was graduated by the University of California medical school. Following graduation he spent two years in post-graduate at the University of California hospital, specializing in pediatrics. He was resident physician in the children's department, in charge of ward and clinical work for one year. For the past two years Dr. Moore has been associated with Dr. E. P. Cook in San Jose doing children's work exclusively.

After deciding to open his own office Dr. Moore spent some time in visiting various towns, and found opportunities here very superior, he reported.

CONCERT TO HONOR SOUSA PLEASES MANY

The Santa Ana Municipal band played the second of the series of summer concerts last night at Birch park to a large and appreciative audience. The concert was played in honor of one of the world's outstanding musicians, the late John Philip Sousa. Several of the numbers included on the program were written by Sousa.

Robert Brown, popular Santa Ana baritone, soloist of the evening, sang "The Trumpeter," by Dix, with the bravado of a true soldier. The richness of his baritone voice, so well adapted to the strong accompaniment of the band carried his audience with him to the final triumph of the piece. His encore was "Lassie O' Mine" by Edward J. Walt.

Of unusual beauty and power was Chopin's "Funeral March" as played by the band. With true appreciation this piece was played by the band as a dirge but with the touch of fire and color which is so inimitably Chopin's.

"At the Movies" by Sousa showed an appreciation of the old-fashioned movies involving the villain and the maid. Commencing with a serenade, the piece continues with a movement called the crafty villain and the timid maid, in which the maid is heard by the trombones and bassoon; this movement swings into the last, which is in old-fashioned dance rhythm. This number was played with clearness and precision.

Perhaps his best known work is John Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," stirring march which opened the program. Together with the last number on the program, the "George Washington Bicentennial March," his last work written just prior to his death, both of the marches aroused a feeling of loyalty and patriotism in the hearts of the hearers.

As the overture of the program the band played von Suppe's, "Poet and Peasant." In the first part of the melody of the trumpets is answered by the low harmony of the reeds. The swings immediately into a brilliant and vivacious crescendo urging to a climax in the ensemble. The piece ends in a colorful and impressive closing.

"The Mill in the Forest," by Ellenberg gives a characteristic picture of the familiar scene with color and vividness. It was rendered by the band with vital force and exactitude.

J. Strauss's melodious waltz "Thousand and One Nights" brought to the minds of the audience the glamor and color of the Orient with its thrilling mystery characteristics of the Tales from the Arabian Nights.

With this splendid array of musical favorites the Santa Ana Municipal band pleased its more than enthusiastic audience greatly last night. The selections chosen with their popular appeal and flawless interpretation by the band proved beautifully adapted to outdoor performances. Musical lovers of Santa Ana may look forward to the concert next Thursday evening, July 14, which will feature the Santa Ana Municipal Chorus and works of Victor Herbert.

I am not against rational temperance measures, but I am against Prohibition with its attendant bootlegging, racketeering and grafting, and its enormous revenue loss.

I intend to fight for and protect labor, agriculture and the independent business man. $22,000 Budget For School Board In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, July 8.—The budget of the San Clemente grammar school district was adopted at a meeting of the board last night attended by E. R. Bartlett, president; W. J. Barry, clerk, and Sally Mae Clark, member. The budget calls for an expenditure of $22,000 for the coming year. Of this amount $7500 is for construction now under way and $3500 for the purchase of added land for school grounds. With these two items deducted from the total the budget is less than the one adopted last year.

Teachers' salaries call for the same expenditure as last year, $4650. The same amount for janitor's service is contained in the budget. Verlin Spencer, of Santa Ana, is the new principal. Other teachers are Mrs. Ray Barrett and Mrs. Ona Johnson, of San Diego. All are attending summer school, taking special courses.

Church Members Work On Aprons

BREA, July 8.—Members of the sewing society of the Brea Nazarene church, at their meeting Thursday morning announced that the aprons they were making were not depression ones but "do-pressure" aprons. Each woman finishes an attractive apron and then solicits a patch, which conceals a sum of money, which is later collected and counted for the church.

Following a pot luck luncheon at noon the missionary society held its regular study class at 2 o'clock, the topic being China. Mrs. Gray, wife of the pastor of the church, presided at this meeting. Miss Opal Estes and Mrs. Irma Stagner, chairman of study and publicity committees, spoke.

The club had as guests, Mrs. David Goodwin and Mrs. Roy Roberts, both June brides, who were received into the club as Lionesses. Dr. J. J. A meeting of directors was called for next Tuesday evening.

158 Cars Of Fruit Sent East In Week

FULLERTON, July 8.—An excellent eastern market, strong, and advancing during the past week, has met the shipments of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange the past few days, 140 cars of Valencia and 18 cars of lemons, with scattered shipments of grapefruit being sent, according to George Crawford, manager of the exchange.

This condition is due to the continued regulation of shipping, according to Crawford, since no particularly good weather conditions for selling citrus have been met in the east.

Other houses of the district have sent 60 cars east, making a total of 218 cars of citrus moved over rail to market the past seven days.

HOLD HEARING ON PLACENTIA BUDGET JULY 18

PLACENTIA, July 8.—The Placentia Union Grammar school district will operate on a budget greatly reduced for 1932-33 season over the budget of last year, according to figures presented by the school board.

The proposed budget this year is $112,875. Actual operating expenses the past year were $123,788.89, while the budget for the previous year was $141,085.

Saving the past year has been on supplies and equipment. The savings on the budget has been made in reduction of wages and salaries and in reduction of the teaching staff, particularly in supervisory teachers.

Salaries for 1931-32 called for $79,305.96. The budgeted salaries for 1932-33 calls for $62,510.

Another item of great expense, because of the widely spread district, is transportation, where the actual operation of buses is $8,000 a year. This does not include new bus equipment.

The board plans no repair or improvement of the physical plant of the school, according to LeRoy Lyon, president of the board, except as is actually needed to preserve the property.

A question of allowing $14,100 for capital outlay in the budget is explained by Mr. Lyon as covering a deficit of $7,000.46, incurred during the past few years because of the rapidly reducing funds of the district.

The regular meeting of the board is slated for July 18, when the hearing on the budget will be held.

ADD 3 FLOATS FOR NEWPORT LIGHTS EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 8.—Confirmation of three more important entries in the Tournament of Lights in Newport bay July 16 was received today at the office of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event. These and other large floats already entered assure more of that class of entry in this year's parade than ever before, it was said at the chamber office.

The three entries formally made today were that of Costa Mesa, the drum and bugle corps of the Santa Ana American Legion and the Southern California Edison company. The Edison entry will depict in some manner the late Thomas A. Edison, whose name will always in history be associated with the word "light."

Tournament of Lights headquarters have been opened up in the Jordan building next door to the chamber office, and attendants will be on hand from now until the night of the lights festa to give out lanterns, candles, etc. The Costa Mesa float committee, a joint group of the chamber of commerce and Lions club of that community, consists of C. E. Dunn, Emil V. Greener and Dr. C. R. Jackson. A private entry in the commercial class from Costa Mesa will be put in by the Bishop School for Boys, an educational institution recently started there.

At a meeting last night he was nominated for commander with no opposition. Other officers nominated follow: C. W. Wells, vice commander; Roland Peterson, Ruhl Sites, second vice commander; V. D. LAST EPISODE IN TWO-PART PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight the KREG Players will present the second and concluding episode of the thrilling drama, "The Ricochet." This is another drama based on actual happenings in the Intelligence Department of the United States Army.

Tonight's episode will proceed from the point at which some most startling discoveries were made concerning a sniper in the ranks whose specialty is putting out of the way some of the best secret service men in the service. The method used by this sniper made it seem that the death of these operatives was "accidental" due to ricocheting bullets during target practice.

These weekly presentations of plays based upon actual happenings in the Intelligence Department of the army during the World War have become very popular with listeners. They are doubly popular with former service men who already have recognized many incidents as having happened while they were in the service and topics for more or less speculation among the soldiers.

These plays were written by Meryl Carver and Bryan Burnett and were taken from the actual records of the army Intelligence Service. For many years these records were sealed to all but officials of the department. Recently, however, they have been opened for public scrutiny and the authors of these plays being presented over KREG have written the series of plays as a tribute to the unheralded and unsung heroes of the Intelligence Department.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR BRIDE BY CHURCH CLASS

ANAHEIM, July 8.—Miss Mabel White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. White of Sycamore street was again the incentive for a miscellaneous shower given last evening by the members of the Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Beebe on Anaheim road.

The bride-elect was completely surprised when she walked into the room, where she expected to attend the regular meeting of the class, and found her many friends waiting to shower her with gifts.

She was presented with a recipe book and each guest contributed to her favorite recipe. This was followed by Miss Virginia Long playing on the piano, "Here Comes the Bride" while Miss Ruby Stanley entered the room strewing flower petals about while the Rev. Thomas H. Walker followed carrying a clothes basket laden with gifts for the honoree.

At the refreshment hour a dainty two course supper was served. Sweetpeas and cecil brunner roses were used to deck the rooms of the home.

Present besides the honoree were the Misses Mary Alice White, Marguerite Schlosser, Idaline Schlosser, Alma Callor, Dorothy Gerlie, Wilma Watts, Virginia Long, Eleanor Longworth, Ellen Gibbs, Sarah Fay, Inez Morris, Miriam Sloop, Georgia Altenow, Evelyn Pohlman, Marjorie Patrick, Charlotte Haggood, Winona Benson, Winifred Beebe and the mesdames H. FIRST CONCERT OF YEAR GIVEN IN CITY PARK

ANAHEIM, July 8.—The balmy July night and the fragrance of summer flowers lent themselves to the typically Spanish program that last evening opened the summer concerts in the Greek amphitheater at the city park with 3000 Anaheim residents and Orange county citizens filling the seats to capacity and finding standing room in the rear. Dr. Walter Bigham, chairman of the concert committee, greeted those present and welcomed them to all future affairs.

A plan has been adopted whereby in the future, instead of a committee being named each season by the mayor and the city council, members of the committee will serve for various length of time.

At the end of this season, Dr. Walter Bigham and J. A. Clayes will have completed their terms and two new members will be added next spring. Mrs. Walter Ross will serve for three years, Mrs. H. D. Newkirk and Mrs. Charles Harbeson will serve for two years. The Spanish fiesta nights have always proven among the most popular of the program so again Jose Arias and his Spanish Troubadours were brought from the picturesque little theater in the plaza of old Los Angeles for last night. With the stringed ensemble were soloists and dancers.

While all numbers were favorably greeted, Senorita Maria Bustos, soprano soloist, soon proved her popularity with the enthusiastic audience as she sang several numbers and later two duet numbers with Senor Samuel Pedraza, tenor.

The colorful and elaborate costumes of the dancers, Senorita Carmencita, Senorita Carolina and Senor Jesus Carral, lent much to the colorful program.

The orchestra played "Vaya Camela," "El Alegre," "La Jota," "Pasa Calle," "Las Tres Palomas" and "Jota Aragonesa," besides accompanying all other numbers.

Senorita Maria Bustos sang "Preguntale a las Estrellas," "Extrallita," "Cielito Lindo" and "Ojos Tapalos." Senor Samuel Pedraza sang several request numbers.

Senorita Carolina danced, "Castorino," "Paso Doble" and two duet numbers with Senor Jesus Carral, "La Jota" and "Jota Aragonesa." Senorita Carmencita danced "Valse Espanol," "Alegrias," and "El Pandango."

ANAHEIM, July 8.—The Rev. and Mrs. Ralph W. Lee and family left today for their new home in Santa Barbara where the Rev. Mr. Lee will take up his duties as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday.

The Rev. Ray C. Harker and family from Whittier will take charge of the Anaheim church.

Mrs. Lee was pretty complimented one day this week with a farewell party that was given by Mrs. A. L. Knipe, 327 South Lemon street and also complimented Mrs. Paul Demaree, soloist at the church and Mrs. Mabel Eberhard, organist. Each of the honored guests received dainty gifts. The guest list included members of the choir.

Mrs. Martha Goodale, Miss Margaret Wells and Mrs. Alta Peck assisted the hostess at the tea hour.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Charlyn Peterson, Mrs. Mabel West, Mrs. Jean Young, Mrs. Alice Steninger, Mrs. Nellie Harpster, Mrs. Edith Harpster, Mrs. Florence Crauston, Mrs. Margaret Olds, Mrs. Esther Williamson, Mrs.

ROBBINS NAMED PRESIDENT OF ANAHEIM C. OF C.

ANAHEIM, July 8.—Fred Robbins was elected president of the chamber of commerce for next year and Harry Pearson was elected vice president at a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday. Oscar Renner and Al Riutcel were installed as the two newly elected board members. E. C. Kendrick and Paul Tedrick retired from the board and Charles Pearson retired as president.

The board now includes, besides the president and Oscar Renner and Al Riutcel, Leonard Evans, H. W. Barnes, P. A. Yungbluth, Lotus H. Loudon, Don Winans, William Dolan and August Elliste.

Following the retirement of the old board the new board of directors was organized.

The board voted to enter a float in the Tournament of Lights that will be held at Balboa Beach on July 16 and the theme to be used on the barge will be "Cutting the Depression Short." The motif will be represented by a fifteen foot mechanical figure of Uncle Sam cutting down a tree stump.

Two new members were voted into the chamber of commerce, William Payne, garage agent, and the Roquet Groceries.

A discussion followed on the proposed merger of the Orange County Fair and the Valencia Orange Show with the Los Angeles fair at Pomona. The board is greatly opposed to this proposed action, as it would cut the local fair and Orange show off from any state aid in the future. While nothing definite was done the proposed plan will be further investigated and an attempt will be made to stop the merger, according to Secretary George L. Reid.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

ANAHEIM, July 8.—The Women's Union of the Calvary Baptist church met yesterday in an all day session at the church. The World Wide Guild put on the program.

Dr. George Peigle and Dr. John Beege are now established in their new offices at the Southern California Automobile club building at the corner of Sycamore and North Los Angeles streets.

Mrs. Paul Elder and daughter returned today from a week's vacation to Catalina Island.

Alta Peck, Miss Marjorie Molder, Miss Maurine Frantz, Mrs. Jessie Schwoob, Mrs. Emma Schrader, Mrs. Martha Goodale, Mrs. Elsie Rymer, Miss Margaret Wells, the honorees and the hostess, Mrs. A. L. Knipe.

CHANGE HOURS MICKEY MOUSE SHOWS IN S. A.

The Santa Ana Mickey Mouse club, will, in the future, meet at 8:30 a. m. on Saturdays instead of 1 p. m. at the Fox West Coast theater, it was announced today and the first morning meeting of the club will be held tomorrow. The change is being made so that more time can be given the children's show. Doors will open at 9:15 a. m. The program for the first morning show is an unusually good one, and includes the feature, "The Cyclone Kid" a cowboy picture that should appeal to every member of the club, a comedy, and one of the ink cartoons. Adults will also be admitted. The price is 10 cents. Aside from the entertainment features ice cream will be given to every member of the club as he or she leaves the theater.

HONOR OR MOUNTED AT WALKER STATE

Tom Tyler will be seen tonight and tomorrow at Walker's State theater in "Honor of the Mounted"

This picture is an epic of murder in the frozen north and a sensational pursuit by a mounted policeman, himself suspected of the crime, and the eventual triumph of justice amid stirring scenes in the trapping country of the northern United States.

In the supporting cast of the northern epic are such famous players as Francis McDonald, Stanley Elystone, Theodore Lerch, Celia Ryland, Charles King, Arthur Millet and G. D. Wood.

TWO PICTURES AT WEST COAST TODAY

The Fox West Coast theater today presents two pictures for its Friday and Saturday entertainment, both films having already been proven here.

"Secrets of a Secretary" stars Claudette Colbert and Bill Boyd. It was considered one of the best pictures of its kind when it played at the Fox Broadway theater here several months ago, giving the audience a taste of office life and the part the secretary plays in running many downtown offices.

Eddie Quillan also is seen, in "Sweepstakes," one of the most thrilling stories he has ever made for the screen. With Marion Nixon and James Gleason in the cast, the story is based on the life of a jockey who is ruled off the track for a crime he did not commit.

HOLLYWOOD AS IT IS SEEN IN BD'WAY FILM

On of the most famous novels about youth and Hollywood—Harry Leon Wilson's story of the country lad who crashed the studio gates and made good—is seen as a talkie, "Make Me a Star," at Fox Broadway, today and tomorrow with Joan Blondell, Zasu Pitts and Ben Turpin heading the cast.

Critics have said that it is the dominating comedy-with-a-heart-tug in this story that gave it its international popularity. Paramount has faithfully transplanted the essence of the book into one of the most human, most entertaining pictures Stuart Erwin has ever done—and the producers have wisely cast him as the leading man, the ambitious, blundering youth about whom the story revolves.

The action opens in a small town in Illinois where Erwin is the clerk in the general store, brow-beaten and held in contempt by almost everyone in the community because of his high-falutin' ideas.

At last Erwin saves enough money to go to Hollywood. In the film capital he tramps from studio to studio, never finding the Elysium he had always believed was there.

At last, through the kindness of Joan Blondell, a hard-boiled "double" for a famous star, Erwin gets his first job before a camera.

He is virtually kicked into fame—for the performance he gives as serious drama is so terrible that the directors see its great value as hilarious comedy...and so he succeeds.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Zucchini, and What To Do With It

Are you familiar with those crooked-neck Italian squashes called zucchini? If not, you have been losing out on one of the most delicious vegetables grown.

There are numerous ways in which this vegetable can be cooked: one of the most popular is Julienne. French-fried Zucchini. Cut the squash in three-inch lengths, then into pieces the size of matches.

Make a fritter batter, just a little of it, stir it through the Zucchini and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. They cook in less than three minutes and are perfection with fried chicken or with broiled fish.

Zucchini is never peeled. Another way of cooking them, sent in by a reader, provides one with a complete dish. Here it is:

ITALIAN SQUASH

- 2 pounds Italian squash
- 1 large onion
- 1-4 cup cracker crumbs
- 1-2 package grated Parmesan cheese
- 1-4 cup salad oil
- Salt and pepper
- 4 eggs

Wash squash but do not peel (this direction applies to all Zucchini recipes.—A. M.) Run squash and onion through the food chopper and fry in the hot oil until soft (about 25 minutes slow cooking). Season to taste with salt and pepper, stir in cracker crumbs and cheese and simmer for a few minutes. Just before serving add the eggs and stir until the eggs are cooked.

With a crisp lettuce salad, dessert, and a fresh fruit dessert, this meal would satisfy the most capricious culinary critic.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chicken with Home-Made Noodles
1 4-pound chicken cooked 4 hours in plenty of water
Onion, parsley, salt and pepper to season broth

NOODLE RECIPE

- 2 cups flour
 - 1 teaspoon butter
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 3 eggs, well beaten
 - 2 tablespoons tepid water
- Sift flour and salt, rub in the butter, and use the beaten eggs and water to make a stiff paste. Turn onto the board and knead for a full 10 minutes. Roll out as thin as possible, paper-thin, if you want nice noodles. Cover the sheet of dough with a tea towel and let it dry for half an hour, then roll up as you would a jelly roll and cut in very thin slices. These may be covered and left on the bread board until you are ready for them, then drop them into the boiling broth and they will unroll as they cook.
- Allow 20 minutes for the cooking of the noodles, the broth kept at a gentle boil from start to finish.

It's hard to estimate this dish but a safe guess for your share would be 600, half of which must be classified as energy units, the rest as proteins, plus a small amount of fats.

Only two days left for you to take advantage of our free offer to get the SIMPLE MAKE-UP LOTION leaflet. Send a 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a copy will be mailed you at once.

Saturday's recipe will be Beet Relish.

TACOMA BIRDS BRING HOME THE BACON

—After Laying The Eggs

Mr. Loyd, owner of "Loyd's Red Farm," 7011 Pacific Avenue, Tacoma, Wash., is happy to make this statement regarding his high hen and the Illinois contest pen—

"Our pen of five hens laid 1,411 eggs, an average of 282.2 eggs each, in the year. They made a new all-time Western Record for their breed, and the high hen of the five, No. 404, is laying 332 eggs was high Rhode Island Red of all American contests, according to word from the east. This record was made at the Murphysboro, Ill. contest."

Now read the part NOPOCO XX played—Mr. Loyd continues—

"It will interest you to know that these hens, as well as all others on our farm received NOPOCO XX cod liver oil—either in their mash, their buttermilk or directly applied to their grain, every day of their lives from their first feed until the day we sent them to Illinois...."

"In fact we attribute their ability to produce as they did and come home looking ready to duplicate their lay next year, in considerable measure to NOPOCO XX" (Concentrated Vitamin D).

Readers of this paper will be interested in a special letter to the folder telling "What 15 Professors of Poultry Husbandry Say About Feeding Vitamin D." 250 Planes Expected At Airport Dedication Sunday

OCEAN FLIER. MOVIE STARS ARE INVITED

Two hundred fifty airplanes are expected in Santa Ana on Sunday to participate in the mammoth air show dedicating the Eddie Martin airport as a Class A airport upon the records of the United States government, according to Dale Deckert who is directing the event.

The celebration, which will be free to the public, with the exception of a small parking charge for automobiles, commemorates installation of the new boundary lights and other equipment, through the co-operation of city officials and the chamber of commerce, which resulted in retaining the airfield beacon and bringing the Class A rating from the U. S. Department of Commerce.

An invitation has been extended to Amelia Earhart Putnam, who recently returned from her successful solo flight to Ireland, and it is possible she may be here, according to Deckert. She is interested in boosting aviation in every way possible and will come to Santa Ana Sunday if at all possible, she told members of the local committee, but will not be able to announce her plans definitely until tomorrow afternoon.

Will Share Proceeds

Parking arrangements at the airport will be in charge of the American Legion auxiliary unit team, which will contribute a large share of the proceeds to the Unemployment association of Santa Ana. The auxiliary also will operate refreshment stands, as well as serving lunches for the visiting pilots. Sandwiches and orange juice for the visiting pilots will be furnished without charge by the Charcoal Broiler.

Sixteen or more army and navy ships will be at the field for the dedication ceremonies, Deckert announced, through the co-operation of Lieutenant Colonel Arnold, commandant at March Field, and other officials at San Diego and Long Beach.

Several air-minded moving picture stars have been invited and it is practically certain that Hoot Gibson, Wallace Beery and others will be present during the day. Others invited include Harry Banner, Ann Harding, Paul Lucas, Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyons.

Special Planes Coming

The full fleet of the Union Oil company's ships will be on hand, headed by Chief Pilot Lennish.

The Western Air Express, through General Manager White, is sending one of the new Boeing mail planes, with air mail pilot; the Lockheed company is sending one of the new Orion planes, capable of 228 miles per hour, for a speed demonstration, and there will be both a Ford tri-motored ship and Autogiro for passenger flights. The program starts at 10:30 a. m. Sunday and will continue all day and evening, providing a calendar of events of thrills and demonstrations more extensive than ever before seen in Orange county, according to those in charge, and which is expected to attract many thousands of spectators.

Plan Many Stunts

The events will include daring parachute jumps, stunts of all kinds, and night airfield landings by the use of flares which will be sensational. All visitors will be welcome to inspect the various ships, and assist in greeting the visiting notables, with the one restriction that children must be accompanied by adults to avoid accidents.

Deckert will act as master of ceremonies at the microphone from 10:30 until 3 o'clock, when this duty will be assumed by Dudley Steele of Los Angeles, director of the national air shows and chief pilot of the Richfield Oil company, until 8 o'clock.

Activities of the great air show will be checked by Inspector Hugh Shields of the U. S. Department of Commerce, in charge of aviation. A day full of interesting, instructive and thrilling events is anticipated, and the suggestion is made that a full day's entertainment for the entire family will be available at only a cost of 25 cents per automobile for parking privileges and no charge whatever for the entertainment.

Vosskuhler to Aid Dedication Plans

Ernest J. Vosskuhler, of Santa Ana, has been named by Governor James Rolph as a member of the citizens' committee headed by John C. Mott to formulate plans for a dedication program of the new State building in Los Angeles, on July 29. It was learned today, announcement was made yesterday that the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church of Santa Ana, had been named on the committee.

CAMERA CATCHES SHELL ON WAY

See the shell? The arrow points to it. The missile was out of the muzzle of an eight-inch mounted railway gun at Fort Hancock, N. J., when this picture was snapped. Thirty-nine shells, fired from guns like these and from twelve-inch mortars, put to rout a mythical enemy fleet eight miles away. The shots registered 222 seconds after being fired.

NEW CLASS FOR KID SWIMMERS TO OPEN AT Y

With his first class of small boys completing their lessons in swimming tomorrow, Physical Director Ruseck of the Y. M. C. A., announces that about four-fifths of the boys are now able to swim across the pool, and that with further practice, every one of them will be a swimmer.

He is ready to take on his next class, which will begin work next Monday morning at 11 o'clock. All boys who have signed up for this next class are requested to be present at the Y. M. C. A. not later than 10:45 Monday morning, ready for instruction.

The class is filled with the advanced registration at present, and unless some of those who have enrolled should drop out, it will not be possible to take in more for this group. In all probability, Ruseck will have to offer another course following the one that is to start Monday in order to take care of the many boys desiring to learn to swim.

People who are interested in enrolling their boys for another class to start about July 20 should phone the Y. M. C. A. office at once. If the demand is sufficient, the class will be organized. This will be for boys under 12 years of age, who cannot swim at all.

MERCHANTS TO BOOST 'TRADE HERE' CAMPAIGN

A general membership meeting of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce will be held the evening of July 14 at a place to be decided later. It was announced at a meeting of the board of directors held in the chamber of commerce office in the courthouse annex yesterday.

Chairman James Harding appointed a special committee to make arrangements for the meeting. The speaker will be an executive of the Better Business bureau of Los Angeles. The meeting will be open to all business men and merchants.

The new division of the chamber of commerce has been active recently checking complaints that business men and citizens have been making in regard to misrepresentations in newspaper advertising and other sources, according to A. Cavalli, manager.

In several cases the organization has been instrumental in curbing unfair business tactics, he said.

The "Shop in Santa Ana" movement, which has been started by the division, has caught fire and local shoppers have found that it pays to shop in Santa Ana because merchants are offering a variety of merchandise at prices far below those of neighboring cities, Cavalli declared. He pointed out that local merchants have less overhead than those in larger cities and can offer better values.

Plans are under way to place exhibits in empty store buildings in the city to show what is manufactured in the city.

The Maharajah of Kashmir, India, has an annual income from his personal estate of $10,000,000, or dismemberment of the body.

Gauer New Head Board of Education

At a recent meeting of the county school board M. A. Gauer, superintendent of elementary schools in Anaheim, was elected president for the next year. He will succeed S. R. Pitts, superintendent of Garden Grove schools as head of the board.

R. F. Boswick, supervisor of Tustin schools, and Pitts were re-elected on the board at this meeting, having been reappointed by the board of supervisors. The remainder of the session was devoted to discussion of textbooks for next year and interviewing book salesmen, according to Ray Adkinson, superintendent of county schools.

MAKE APPEAL FOR SUPPLIES TO CAN FOOD

So that large quantities of food that have been collected after a great deal of labor on the part of members of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana will not spoil, an urgent appeal was made to the public today by officials of the organization for jars in which to can the food. At least three glass plates to be used to cook the food also are needed.

Members of the association have collected huge amounts of squash, onions, beans, carrots, cucumbers, apricots, plums, tomatoes and many other seasonal goods that will spoil if they are not canned in the near future.

Canning operations were started on a large scale in the association headquarters in the old Willard school building yesterday. The association now has some 850 members and an average of 155 families are led each day through the food which is donated by local merchants and ranchers.

The association is planning to start an orchestra soon and the public has been asked for the use of any musical instruments that can be obtained.

Plans are also in progress to hold open house at the headquarters in the near future to allow residents of the city an opportunity to see for themselves the scope of operations carried on by the association.

Antarctica, or the antarctic continent, is believed to have an area of about 5,000,000 square miles.

INVITE CLUBS TO LUNCH WITH S. A. CHILDREN

All service clubs in Santa Ana have been invited to join with the Santa Ana Breakfast club in a meeting to be held at the Julia Lathrop school a week from today at noon when the club will have luncheon with the many children who are being fed with funds released from the Breakfast club benefit show some time ago. It was announced today by Barney Koster, chairman of the program committee.

The same food that is given the children will be eaten by all those that attend the luncheon meeting. It was announced. No meeting of the Breakfast club will be held at Ketter's cafe next Thursday morning, the Friday meeting having been arranged to take the place of the regular meeting.

In addition to members of service clubs, all candidates for public office will be invited to attend the meeting.

An elaborate program of music and entertainment is being arranged for the affair.

BOYS SIGN UP FOR NEXT SCOUT CAMP

More than 20 boys from various cities in Orange county have already signed up to go to Camp Rokill, the Boy Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains, for the next week camping period which starts Monday. It was announced by Harrison E. White, Scout executive who was down from camp for a short time yesterday.

Robert Comber, Roy Divil Jr., Kermit Westbrook, Robert Amundson, Joe Larsen and Don Williams of San Clemente are included in the group. Others include Bob Klose, Leonard Ash and Harrison White Jr., of Santa Ana; Jack Dodge and Raymond Wallace from Newport Beach; Bradley Humphreys, Gordon Kennard and Bremer Starbuck, of Fullerton; Fred Kobayashi, Enoch Harris and Lloyd McMillan, of Garden Grove; and Basil Williamson and Haliman Heuberg of Huntington Beach.

Many more Scouts from the county are expected to sign up before the trip to camp is made.

Magazine Cover Page Has Work of Artist Well Known Here

Santa Ana houses which received the Literary Digest of July 2, felt that they had greeted a warm personal friend as they surveyed the colorful reproduction of an inviting tea table which formed the cover of the magazine, and saw that it was from the gifted brush of Gertrude G. Gardner.

For Miss Gardner is well-known in this city as the niece of Mrs. Harwood Sharp, 221 Orange avenue, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gardner of Flushing, N. Y., former Santa Ana residents. She is a teacher of art in the public schools of New York City, and finds time in addition to continue her own art work with interest divided between water in water colors and in oils.

As a member of the National association of Women Painters and Sculptors, Miss Gardner has exhibited with them frequently as well as with other organizations including the New York Water Color club and the American Water Color society. She is a member also of the Pontinebleu (France) Ecole de Beaux Arts Alumni association.

Just at present, according to Mrs. Sharp, her niece is giving her chief attention to oils, finding subjects for her brush in nature, with interesting landscapes vying with gardens and still life such as the picture reproduced on the Digest cover. This picture, Miss Gardner has titled simply "Tea," and it is an interesting study of a tea table with quaint brass teapot, a colorful service, and added brilliancy given by a green glass jar of vivid flowers and a companion compote of fruits. The artist anticipates a venture in portraiture in the near future.

Charles W. Gardner and Miss Frances Gardner, father and sister of the artist, spent the past winter months in this city, occupying Mrs. Harwood Sharp's home during her extended visit in the east. They renewed many pleasant old friendships and formed an equal number of new ones while here.

Missionary to Korea Complimented at Friendly Tea

Miss Margaret Billingsley, of Korea, was honor guest of a hostess group on Thursday afternoon in the L. W. Slaback home at 418 West Pine street, when Mrs. Slaback, Mrs. T. J. Hunter, Mrs. Jack Hubbard and Mrs. Leon Elliott entertained. Guests enjoying the hospitality were from the Louise Aker Missionary circle and the Jubilee circle of Spurgeon Methodist church. The living rooms were decorated in large baskets of early summer blossoms in honor of the occasion.

In the first part of the afternoon a program of piano and piano accordion numbers and readings was given by Lela Slaback, Mary Virginia Rhodes, Frances Walton and Lela Slaback. Miss Billingsley told interestingly of her work as a missionary teacher of home economics in the Social Center in Seoul, Korea, which is under the control of a united board from the First Methodist, the South Methodist and the First Presbyterian churches.

She is sent out by the Arizona Conference of the Southern Methodist church and has been in Korea for five years and now is enjoying a year's furlough in the home country. Returning to the United States in April she spent two months with her parents in Duncan, Ariz., and then came to the coast and taught in the Mt. Hermon Epworth League Assembly and has just returned from a school of the same kind in Italy. While here she is a guest in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Aker, 1022 North Flower street, whom she knew and lived with in Phoenix, Ariz., before going to Korea.

After a short visit with other friends in Southern California she will return to her home in Duncan for a visit before going to Scarsville College in Nashville, Tenn., for several months of study and will again return to Korea early next year.

Miss Billingsley displayed many Korean articles of clothing, pictures and various souvenirs. She also brought with her Korean dolls dressed by girls in her school, industrial school, knitted silk bags made by the native women, and brass bowls. These articles are on display in the Slaback home to anyone interested.

Late in the afternoon cooling refreshments were served by the hostesses to the honor guest, Miss Margaret Billingsley and the Mesdames C. M. Aker, John Heath, Jack Hubbard, Charles Hinton, Leon Elliott, T. J. Hunter, C. N. Manning, James Nuckolls, C. E. Tumber, Walter Fine, Frank Tedford, Norman Herzog, Carl DuRall, Orrie Saunders, L. W. Sumner, Moffett Rhodes and Sam Butler, and the Mesdames Heater Covington, Frances Walton, Dora Tedford, Helen Fine, Lela Slaback and Mary Virginia Rhodes.

Miss Kuehne to Spend Rest of Summer in Northern Trip

Resigning from a position which she has filled for almost the entire time she has been in Santa Ana, Miss Kathryn L. Kuehne, secretary of the Willard Dry Goods company, today severed her connection with that store in order to devote the remainder of the summer months to a much needed rest.

Miss Kuehne and her sister, Miss Bertha E. Kuehne, who make their home at 621-1/2 Riverside avenue, have lived in this city for the past 17 years, and soon after arriving here, Miss Kathryn Kuehne became identified with what was then the Spicer store, under the ownership of the late Charles Spicer. When the store changed hands a few years ago after the death of Mr. Spicer, and became the property of Claude H. Van Antwerp of 2504 North Broadway, Miss Kuehne remained in her secretarial post. Then when poor health made it necessary for the Van Antwerps to give up all business activities, and the store became the property of the present owner, Harry E. Willard, 219 Buffalo street, Miss Kuehne has continued in her responsible post.

However, she finds that 17 years of steady work have created the need for a change, and she and her sister, Miss Bertha Kuehne, plan to devote the remainder of the summer to a leisurely tour of California. They will leave soon by automobile for a trip up the Columbia highway, with no definite destination in mind, beyond their plans to see California, Oregon and perhaps Washington. They will stop where fancy dictates, and spend as much time as they wish in any one place.

Summer Dwellers in Mountains Return For Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dixon and daughter, Miss Maude Dixon, who have been spending the summer in their mountain cabin at Cedar Pines Park near Crestline, returned yesterday to their home at 1128 South Ross street, drawn back by the attractions of the big Citrus Belt picnic of United Spanish War Veterans to be held Sunday in Irvine Park.

The Dixons declared that the mountains have never been lovelier than they are this summer, and their entire stay in Cedar Pines Park has been an enjoyable one. They have had a succession of house parties for the remaining weeks of the summer season before the opening of school brings them home to stay.

The most recent of these house parties was that over the Fourth of July week end when they entertained as guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Summers of Tustin; J. H. Peters and son, Steven Peters, of Pacific Grove; Mrs. Ruth Gilbert and daughter, Margaret; Mrs. Carle Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gowdy and children, Dorothy and Dean Gowdy, and William Sansom, all of Santa Ana.

Summer Recreation Plan Proving Popular

Recreation classes, swimming and gymnasium groups are proving popular this summer among Y.W.C.A. and Girl Reserve folk and the many Santa Ana young people who are taking advantage of the events staged under the auspices of these two organizations.

Working out with special success is a recreation class being conducted for girls from eight years to junior high school age each Thursday from 2:30 to 4:30 in the rear yard at 908 North Sycamore street. Tumbling mats are provided and chevrons are awarded those girls passing a certain number of tests with the mat, while regular teams are organized for match play at "tennis-like" game which has proved especially popular. Middies and bloomers are worn for this class, which any girl in the city is welcome to join, according to Mrs. Maude Moore of the Y.W.C.A.

In addition to the swimming and gymnasium classes held each Tuesday at 9:15 and 10 o'clock, respectively, at the Y.M.C.A., bi-weekly trips are made to Balboa Beach by the swimming students for instruction in the bay, after special exercises on the shore. These excursions are made every other Friday, the next being scheduled for next week, when members will leave Santa Ana at 10 o'clock, enjoy their lunch on the beach and return in the early afternoon.

Rutans Receive Guests At Impromptu Dinner Of Last Evening

Claiming a spontaneity lacking in more studiously planned affairs, the informal party with which Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rutan entertained in their home at 2435 Riverside drive, last evening, proved the more enjoyable for the impromptu nature of the invitations, issued but a short time before.

While original plans had called for out of door entertaining, climatic conditions made an indoor dinner more advisable, so that guests arrived to find a dinner table, attractive with flowers, awaiting them within the home. Gladioluses and other blooms of similar type lent gaiety to the several rooms.

Dinner at an end, guests repaired to the living room where card tables were soon arranged for bridge, in which game guests found diversion during the remainder of the evening.

With the talling of scores the hosts found Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. J. I. Clark to rank high among the women players, while of the men's tallies, those of F. E. Farnsworth and C. V. Davis were correspondingly high. Each of the four winners was suitably rewarded before guests dispersed for the evening.

S. A. Legion Auxiliary Will Send Delegates To State Conclave

Election of delegates and alterations to the state convention of the American Legion auxiliary, which will have its setting in Oakland August 15, 16 and 17, was accomplished last night by the women of the local organization, meeting in American Legion hall.

Pursuant to their established custom of financing the convention trip of two representatives from the auxiliary, members last evening voted to meet the expenses of their president, Mrs. E. F. Mathews, and of Mrs. Frances Scudder, a delegate. Other delegates chosen were Mesdames George Sullivan, William Penn, Charles Leimer, Andrew Lykes, Evelyn Imhoff and Miss Ruth Stewart. Alternates named were Mesdames Arthur Eklund, Fred Halber, George Kellogg, John Turton, Ralph Hoover and Miss Julia McGill.

Annual reports revealed the scope of the work conducted by the auxiliary during the past year, that of the welfare department, as offered by Mrs. Fannie Reeves and Mrs. Arthur Eklund, indicating that over $1600 had been expended in relief work since June, 1931. Members voted $5 monthly to a boy in the Orange county health camp.

Announcement was made of the first area meeting to be held in the social hall at San Clemente July 29, beginning at 10 a. m. Reservations for this event should be made with Mrs. Mathews at 541-W.

Among social events which will occupy the auxiliary during the next several weeks are a card party to be held Tuesday with Mrs. John Turton, 1325 Martha Lane, and a Girls' Scout Tea, which members will attend in the home of Mrs. J. C. Horton on Wednesday, July 27.

At the invitation of Mrs. Lloyd Folger, Harmony Bridge club women of the Santa Ana chapter Order of Eastern Star, gathered in the gardens of her home at 1706 West Washington avenue Tuesday afternoon for a party which combined the aspects of a white elephant affair and a bridge luncheon.

Festivities opened with a pot luck luncheon, enjoyed about these same tables in the attractive garden setting. Later, luncheon covers were replaced with bridge cloths for the card tournament, which extended well into the afternoon.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

by Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Cherry Dixon, pretty 29-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, falls in love with Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter. She quarrels with her father about Dan, leaves home and, taking advantage of Leap Year, asks Dan to marry her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXII

Cherry did not need to look at the signature of the letter. She had recognized her mother's handwriting.

Something slipped from her fingers and dropped to the floor as she opened the envelope. A narrow, folded strip of pale blue paper. Cherry picked it up, unfolded it. She read: "Pay to the order of Cash—$500."

hundred dollars—why it was a fortune!

"My dear Cherry," her mother had written, "It has been a long time since I've heard from you and I have been so worried. Sarah is badly crippled with neuritis and unable to leave the house. I have no means of reaching you except to send this note because of promises I made your father. He is bitter—refuses to have your name mentioned—and the situation is very hard."

"I can not endure the thought that you may be in want, perhaps actually suffering. The enclosed check is to buy anything at all that you may need. Consider it a wedding present if you wish—although I certainly never thought my daughter would be married without either of her parents present and by a justice of the peace! Cherry, darling, the last month has been a terrific strain on me. I can only wait and pray that some time this terrible trouble may be lifted. If only I could know you are well and not in need. Day and night I think about you. May God keep you!—Your Loving Mother."

Thoughtfully Cherry studied the check. Five hundred dollars seemed a lot of money now. Two months before it would have been only the price of a few dresses. How had her mother managed to send such a sum? Cherry knew her father scrutinized household accounts, paid all the bills. It must have required scheming and Mrs. Dixon was not the sort to scheme.

"Poor Mother!" Cherry said to herself. "I'll write her and send the letter to Sarah. I don't want her thinking Dan and I are poverty-stricken, going around in rags—"

All at once the figures on the check started back at her accusingly.

Five hundred dollars—FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS! "You can't take it!" a small voice in the back of her brain was insisting. "You aren't starving or cold or helpless and you can't admit to your mother or anyone else that Dan doesn't make enough to take care of you. You can't accept this money and admit your marriage isn't a success!"

Cherry sank to the davenport. There were all the things which that money could do for her and Dan. It could hardly have come at a more opportune time—the rent to be paid, Dan's new suit, the money he had borrowed.

her parents. Dan was proud and bitter still over things her father had said on the only occasion when the two had met. This $500 was really her father's money though it was her mother who sent it.

"You can't do it," the first voice argued. "It's your loyalty to Dan that's at stake. You can't do the one thing you know he wouldn't want you to."

Well, there was no use sitting there staring at the check. The breakfast dishes were to be washed and the laundry sent. Cherry had a full day's work ahead. She got to her feet, folded the check and slipped it back into the envelope. Then she placed it in the top drawer of the big chest. She would decide what to do later.

The dishes were waiting, stacked on the shelf that served as a kitchen table. Cherry drew a pan of steaming, sudsy water and began to play the dish mop.

After the dishes were washed and put away she began energetically to clean the living room. She worked as though getting that room clean were the one important thing in the world. It wasn't of course. No matter how hard Cherry worked it was the check of which she was thinking. Those two persistent voices, the one arguing that she should keep it, the other that she should send it back, continued their dual.

Cherry went to the chest and got out her mother's letter.

She took paper and pen and ink and sat down at the table. Five minutes later she folded the check inside the note she had written and sealed them both in an envelope. She addressed it to Mrs. Sarah O. Fallon and finished it with a stamp.

"There!" the girl sighed aloud. "It's settled!"

She was so eager to have the whole thing off her mind that without waiting to eat, she slipped on her hat and coat and walked to the corner post box.

Another week and it would be June. The sky was deep sapphire today, the clouds like down. Sunshine shimmered back from window panes and the white pavement. Cherry walked slowly, enjoying the fresh air.

She had dropped the letter into the box and started back up the street when a noisy police ambulance had halted in front of her home!

The girl walked faster. The ambulance was backed to the door now. Two men entered the house and a woman came out the door.

Cherry began to run. "What is it?" she asked the man in the driver's seat. "What's happened?" "Don't know, ma'am. Emergency call."

on the sidewalk. Cherry rushed up the steps. The woman by the door was another tenant whom she had seen but never before spoken to.

"What's happened?" the girl asked.

"It's Miss Jamieson," the other told her. "She has that little room on the top floor. Took some kind of poison."

"Oh, how horrible!"

"I'll be a mercy if she doesn't live," Cherry's informant continued somberly. "She's been out of work. Hasn't paid her rent for three weeks. That's why the janitor happened to go upstairs and knock at her door. Believe me, I know what it's like to be out of work with no friends!"

The door opened, and the two women stepped aside. Two men bearing a stretcher came out.

There was a figure on the stretcher, entirely covered except for the pale face with its frame of dark hair. The eyes were closed but the face was contorted as though from pain.

Instinctively Cherry drew back. The crowd of watchers on the sidewalk had increased. Cherry wanted to tell them to go away. That poor girl—surely in her suffering she was entitled to privacy! They were taking her to a hospital to try to save her life. Would she live? If the doctors succeeded would she be grateful to them? "It's—so terrible," Cherry said brokenly. "Let's go inside."

had," he said. "It's a bad thing to have happen in an apartment. I hope they won't get a lot of rumors started—"

"Do they think she'll get well?" Cherry asked.

Mr. Bergman inclined his head skeptically. "Who knows? She ain't been eating much for a long time I guess. The doctor said she had a chance. That's all. She hasn't looked so well for a couple months."

"Hasn't she any friends? Isn't there anyone at all to help her?" The janitor shook his head.

"Not since she's been here," he said. "I've never seen her with anyone. The note she left said there wasn't anyone to notify."

"But it doesn't seem right!"—Cherry began.

The other woman put a hand on the girl's arm. "They'll do everything that can be done for her at the hospital," she said. "It's charity cases like this one and rich folks that get the best care. They'll save her if there's any way to do it."

They were right of course. There was nothing for Cherry to do but go upstairs to her own apartment. Lunch was waiting there but she knew she could not eat.

"This is where you live, isn't it?" the other woman said when they had reached the second floor landing. "You'd better lie down for a while. Look sort of worn out. Would you like me to bring you a cup of tea?"

Cherry thanked her but refused.

The woman said she was Mrs. Moreau and lived on the third floor. Cherry promised to come up to see her some afternoon.

The apartment had never seemed such a refuge. Cherry entered, closing the door behind her. The familiar room with its bright colors and comfortable furnishings had never looked so attractive. Oh, why had she and Dan considered themselves poor! They were young. They had health. They had each other.

Throughout the afternoon Cherry was unable to rid herself of the memory of Miss Jamieson's white face. At 4 o'clock she went down stairs to ask the janitor's wife if there had been any report from the hospital.

"If she lives through the night," Mrs. Bergman told her, "they say she'll get well. The poor girl! Yes, it's too bad—too bad!"

There was nothing to be gained for Miss Jamieson or anyone else by standing there and discussing what had happened. Cherry went back to the second floor.

Dinner was ready, waiting to be put on the table when Dan arrived at 6 o'clock. Cherry heard him whistling in the hall and ran to open the door.

"Hello, darling—" she began, but the words died on her lips.

Dan Phillips entered, his face alight with excitement. "Hello Cherry. Wait till you see what I've got for you!" he exclaimed.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

GIVE SURE RECIPES FOR JAMS, JELLIES

When the honeymoon is over and nine of the ten pairs of candlesticks have been exchanged for a wider variety of nice things for the new house, the wise little bride will begin to think of well-cooked meals.

She will be constantly trying out new dishes, but she must keep in mind that friend husband is accustomed to certain old standards that mother used to make, and will miss them if he doesn't get them. Jam and jelly are among them.

Jelly making is an art as old as anything in the field of home making, but fortunately, jelly making today is not anything like the arduous task it was in grandmother's time. Any bride can make a batch of beautiful, delicious jam or jelly in a quarter of an hour from the time she lights the fire. And she need have no fear of failure, because modern research has provided bottled fruit pectin, which she can buy at any grocery and the use of which assures her that the right proportion of sugar, acid and pectin will be present in her kettle.

Try these recipes. But one word of warning. If you wish to give that new husband jelly and jam which not only equals but surpasses "Mother's," follow the recipes exactly.

Strawberry Jelly

4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
7-8 cups (3-4 lbs.) sugar.
1 bottle fruit pectin
To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about 3 quarts fully ripe berries. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about eleven 8-ounce glasses.

Red Currant Jam

4 cups (2 lbs.) crushed fruit
1-2 cup water
7-8 cups (3-4 lbs.) sugar
1-2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, crush thoroughly or grind about 2 pounds fully ripe fruit and measure it into large kettle. Add 1-2 cup water, and stir until mixture boils. (With black currants, use 3-4 cup water.) Simmer, covered, 15 minutes. Add sugar, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about eleven 8-ounce glasses.

THE "RULE" OF THE GALLERY

The gallery played a noisy, but a rather unimportant part, in the two political conventions. There were times during the sessions of both when the rule of the gallery was complete. When James R. Garfield, for the Committee on Resolutions of the Republican party, presented his majority report on the prohibition question, it was some time before he could proceed. Again and again he essayed to speak, but again and again he was booed down. There was no doubt where the gallery stood on the prohibition question. Courtesy, fair-play, decency was remote from the people in the gallery.

In the Democratic convention, the gallery was for Al Smith. His name shook the rafters of the gallery every time it was mentioned. They singled out his opponents for special booing. Mr. McAdoo stood for half an hour waiting for the din in the gallery to cease before he could announce the switch of California and Texas from Garner to Roosevelt. It was the signal for the fall of the gallery's idol, and if noise could prevent it or delay it, they were well-equipped.

Fortunately the gallery did not rule, and will not rule. Its support is a liability to any candidate or any cause. If the boos of the gallery which greeted James R. Garfield could be heard over the length and breadth of this country, the "drys" would win without effort. And if the boos which greeted the supporters of Roosevelt could be heard over the length and breadth of the land, it would mean votes for him.

The vast majority of the people of this country believe in fair play. Such disgraceful antics as those of the denizens of the galleries at the two conventions were a discredit to any beneficiary candidate or cause. What was most disgusting about it all was that neither Senator Bingham of Connecticut, who brought in the minority report for repeal in the Republican convention, nor Governor Ely, who nominated Al Smith in the Democratic convention, or any other outstanding Smith supporter, made an appeal to the gallery for fair play for those who opposed them.

In both cases the gallery lost out. This may not prove that the gallery is necessarily wrong. But it does prove that the gallery is intolerant, and deserves to lose. Prejudice and intolerance such as that manifested by the gallery is thoroughly un-American. A candidate or a cause is honored by its opposition.

Now the big bankers are saying that Congress knows nothing about money. Well, it knew enough to give us a two-billion dollar deficit.

PRESIDENT DE VALERA COMES DOWN

The report comes from Dublin that the Irish Free State government has agreed to arbitrate its differences over the questions in dispute between the two governments over the oath to the king and the land annuities, both of which were provided for in the treaty agreed upon between England and the Free State.

As we have noted before, England has a way of getting results without the use of force. It refused to become belligerent when President De Valera, without conference, proceeded to annul the agreements of a treaty. It simply stated that it looked upon such breaking of faith as a matter of "grave concern," and sat down and waited. The Free State government went on; and when the action had been consummated by the Irish legislature, the English government announced that it would proceed to collect the annuities from tariffs imposed upon Irish imports into England.

That announcement gave the Irish leaders a chance for a second think. Every nation needs a market for its goods. England is the best market for Irish goods. When the people saw their economic interests threatened, they came to, and their government decided that they had gone too far. In the end we believe that the Irish Free State government will find it to be good policy, not only to observe a treaty solemnly made, but also to continue to be a part of the great British commonwealth. Inherited prejudices and hates cannot stand before economic well being. President De Valera has found that out by now.

A VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVANT DROPPED

Ethelbert Stewart, chief statistician for the Department of Labor in Washington, has been dropped from the service of the government. Ostensibly he was dropped in the interest of economy. The economy bill passed by Congress granted permission to the various departments to retire men and women who had reached the retiring age, but who had been held because of their valuable service to the country.

Many of those who might have been dropped by this permissive act have been retained in the service because of their expert ability. But it has been whispered about that Mr. Stewart, while quite as valuable as many others who have been retained, was dismissed because Secretary Doak found him a bit intractable when he thought it was politically inexpedient to reveal actual facts from being given to the country. Secretary Doak had reported that unemployment was on the decrease. When Mr. Stewart was asked by a reporter if such were the fact, he merely gave the figures which refuted Mr. Doak's statement. It was a conflict between the politician and the expert statistician, and the expert was slated for removal at the earliest opportunity.

We hold no brief for Mr. Stewart, but what is the use of an expert if his findings are to be refuted by his superior for the sake of political expediency?

A writer says that a good story must always have an ending that satisfies. The trouble with that is that most wives won't wait to hear the end.

ENGLAND WILL PAY

As the moratorium on reparations and interallied debt payments is about to expire, a report from London comes that the English government will meet its payment to the United States promptly when it comes due on July 1. None of the other governments involved, so we understand, has provided for its payment.

With England the national credit is of primary concern. England has never defaulted in its obligations; and she is careful that she never will. To her, obligations agreed upon have been held sacred. It may be a matter of pride; but we are inclined strongly to the belief that it is wholly a matter of principle and national honor.

This is the glory of England, and the reason for its ascendancy in the world. Our own country has a record quite as honorable, with perhaps this difference. We have been much more reluctant to assume obligations plainly ours, which England under similar conditions would have felt to be imperative. Some of our states have repudiated, as, for example, some of the states of the South engaged in the Civil War. But the record of our government like that of England in such matters is still clean.

A Lead From Estonia's Women

Christian Science Monitor

Few who have had any direct contact with the smaller nations and know their quiet content and efficiency to be found in those most alert, will deny that they have some outstanding advantages over the so-called "great" nations.

Perhaps one of the most important is the better recognition by the nationals of these lesser nations that the world is a unit composed of many members, and a juster conception of the relation of their own nation, as one member, to the whole.

Comment to a Swede traveling in France or England on the excellence of his French or English and he will calmly remark that it is essential for him to learn foreign languages since few nationals of other countries have any knowledge of Scandinavian languages. He is free from that obsession with the size and importance of his own country which sometimes makes it difficult for nationals of the larger nations to realize, with sufficient vividness to have any practical influence on their actions, that other countries really exist.

It is not surprising, then, to learn that an important group of one of the smallest of European nations, Estonia, is vigorously bent on the pursuit of an international outlook. It is the meek, after all, who inherit the earth. The women of Tartu, Estonia's capital, realize that "the world in general" has been their ally. "Estonian women are determined to know everything about the world."

As a first step toward the realization of this ideal, all the women's organizations and most of the student organizations have united in an educational effort of world-wide range. Weekly lectures are given on international, political, economic and social subjects, thus providing women with a valuable training in "world interests and international thinking."

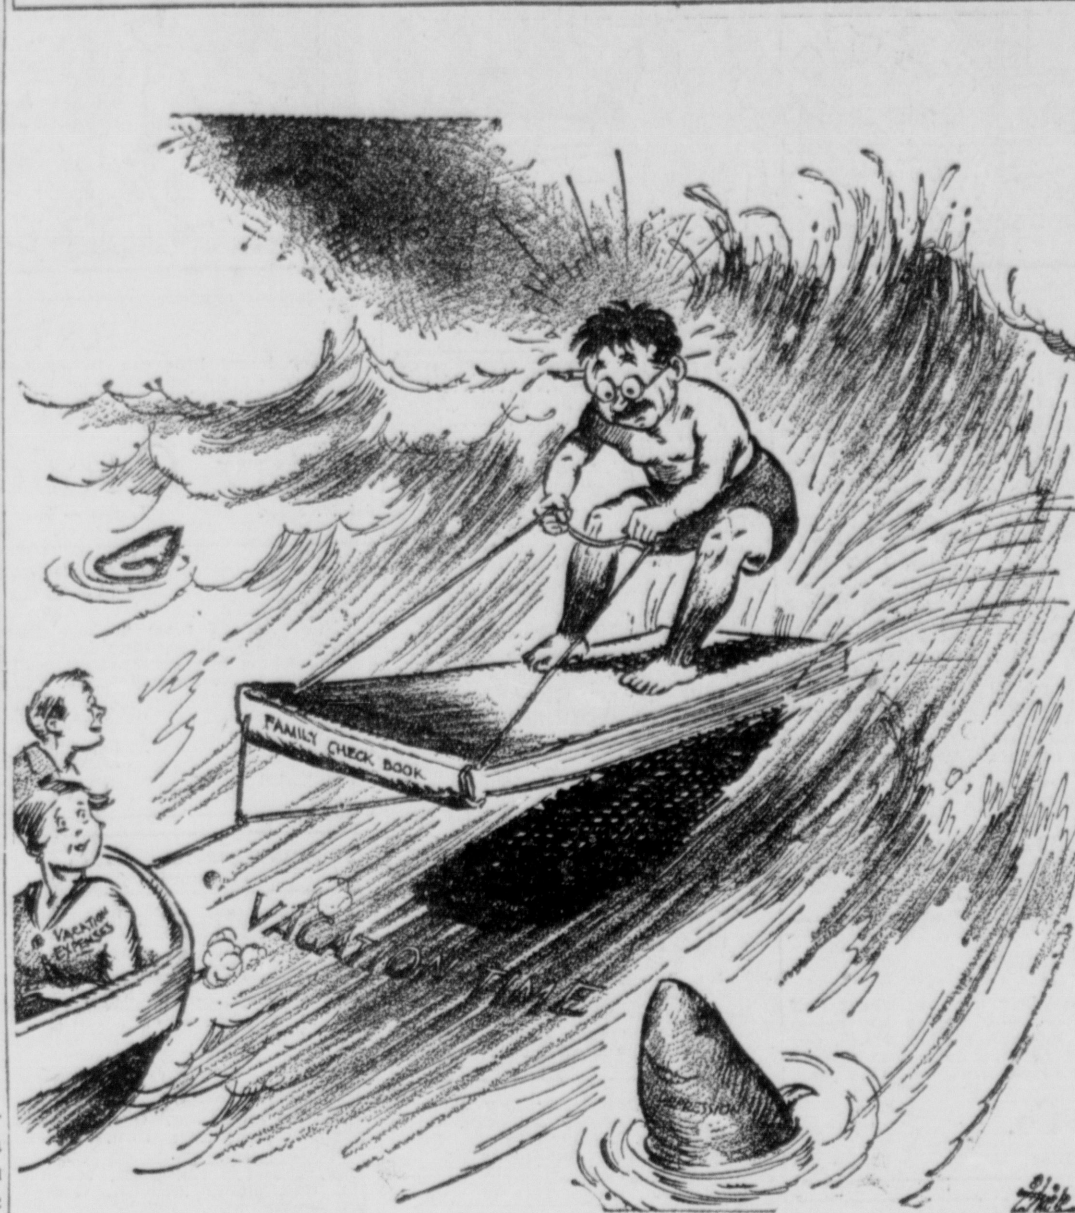

If the women's organizations of some of the world's great capitals would unite in similar well-directed effort, not only women themselves but the world at large would benefit. Often women have been more or less content to leave the knowledge and control of national and international affairs in the hands of men. In view of conditions obtaining in the world after generations of this tradition, it can hardly be denied that the nations need their refining and peacemaking influence. It is a time for women everywhere to awake to the public responsibilities and opportunities which await them.

Helpless Chicago

Riverside Daily Press

Seldom has society's helplessness in the face of gang violence been more clearly demonstrated than in the case of Danny McGeoghegan, Chicago beer hustler, who got free of a charge of conducting a $60,000 bank robbery the other day when the state's attorney asked the courts to dismiss the indictment. This action was taken at the request of the two bank officials who had identified McGeoghegan as the robber and who were to be the principal witnesses against him. They had received so many threats that they had to live under constant guard in a Chicago hotel, and they finally begged the state's attorney to call the whole thing off so they could breathe freely again. Could there be a more striking instance of the utter breakdown of law enforcement? The episode is a worse stain on Chicago's record than any of its innumerable unpunished gang murders. It reveals a society standing completely helpless before the threats of a gang of desperadoes.

More Truth Than Poetry

A DOUBTFUL BLESSING

The simple life that I must lead,
Now I have lost my hope of wealth,
Is just exactly what I need
To benefit my failing health.
By living on far plainer fare
I shall cut down my doctor's bills,
Reduce my load of mental care
And dodge all sorts of pains and ills.

No longer shall I dare to shirk,
As I live on, from day to day,
The hard and body building work
That holds debility at bay.
I cannot smoke, I cannot drink
Hard liquor of whatever kind;
But I can sit around and think
And thereby much improve my mind.

I cannot watch the ponies run
Or drive a golf ball off a tee
Or follow any form of fun
Which did such mortal harm to me.
I cannot sit beside a brook
Ad hear the wind-tossed willows sigh
While I watch my baited hook;
I can't afford to angle now.

The life that I must lead, no doubt,
My cares and worries will curtail,
Will lengthen my existence out,
And make me strong, and tough and hale.
No longer need I sit afret
What time my nerves are on the rack
Because I live too high, and yet
I wish the old days could come back.

Official Washington might consult the captain of the Roosevelt. He never fails to rescue those at sea. The Russians must be truly democratic at heart. They go galga when a prince comes visiting.

A pitcher knows how Mr. Hoover feels. He also gets the blame for defeat if those behind him are in a slump. But if you buy insurance to keep your widow from want, why kick if she uses it to get the man she wants.

Another amusing detail of modern life is the kind of people who call other people morons.

MEN ARE PEOPLE WHO WISH TO NECK ALL OF THE LADIES AND AT LAST MARRY ONE THAT HASN'T BEEN NECKED.

Maybe important people wouldn't be rude if there was any other way to discourage the rudeness of unimportant people. Another commodity that suffers as a result of its over-production is people.

The defeated candidate has one consolation. His friends don't start cussing him after the election.

AMERICANISM: Jailing the little man who fools a sucker to make ten dollars; praising the stock manipulator who fools many to make a million.

Blessed are the meek. Old dad, for instance, has as much spending money as ever since he quit making any. If only the ancient dames could get a school-girl complexion without getting a school-girl complex.

America isn't behind other nations. It isn't behind anything except billboards.

ANOTHER GOOD INTELLIGENCE TEST IS TO COUNT THE OPINIONS YOU WOULD KEEP IF EVERYBODY ELSE DISAGREED.

A fighter doesn't lose because he has slipped. His manager slipped in accepting a bout with a better man.

A typical American is one who feels ruined when he can no longer give his family too much spending money.

It is easy to understand head-hunters when you see how civilized people feel about the head of a State.

Maybe this is the age of invention, but where would we be if old-time hadn't invented the wheel and printing?

Thoughts On Modern Life

DANGERS OF ECONOMY

Will it seem heretical to say that a national danger lurks at the heart of the current mania for public economy?

Let us hasten to make clear what I mean.

Economy drastic beyond our dreams is needed in the conduct of our public affairs.

The cost of local, state, and federal governments has bent the back of the American people.

Taxes have become a plague, blindness, blundering, and sheer

But there is a vast amount of insincerity in much of the hysterical campaign against government waste that is now sweeping the nation.

By all means, let us stop waste. But let us be sure that we are stopping the real waste.

I have been interested this evening to study an analysis that shows that we could dismantle every federal bureau and stop every civil function of the federal government—with the exception of construction, relief, loans for ship building and the farm board—and still reduce the federal budget only 8 per cent.

The complete cost of executive, legislative and judicial activities of the federal government absorbs less than two-thirds of one per cent of the total federal budget.

Almost three-fourths of the expenditures of the federal government are absorbed by our military costs and obligations growing out of past wars.

A similar story can be told of the excessive burdens imposed by local governments on the taxpayer.

Neither local, state or federal governments are the real burden due to basic government services. And yet we are trying to balance our budgets by cutting the heart out of the only things that make government a creative social agency in this complicated world.

We slash scientific bureaus. We trim down our support of social service and regulatory bureaus.

We squeeze education. We fire visiting nurses. We starve libraries.

We drastically reduce hospital staffs.

We call this economy, and actually think we are intelligent in calling it that.

Our budgets will balance not because we have occasional outbursts from politicians with a budget ax, but when we have a statesmanship that will tackle such basic issues as war, tariffs, world relations, and the like, to the end that the bulk of our budgets will not have to go for suicidal ventures of the past rather than services for the present.

We are in too much of a hurry. The growth of children is a slow steady day by day affair, one step at a time. Mothers are likely to forget this and begin fretting about the slow response to their teaching. Wait. To-day a little, to-morrow a little, day after day, and one day the result stands out completed.

"How do you teach a baby to feed himself? I've been struggling with my little girl now for a month with very little results. She spills her cereal all over her front, just the same as she did in the beginning."

Not quite the same. She takes hold of the spoon. Once in a while she finds her mouth without a mistake. Just put a bib on her and let her worry along, cheering every once in a while for her progress. Don't let a child get tired. A baby has to work hard to clutch and direct a spoon. A few efforts and he is worn out. He begins to cry and you stop trying. If you force him there is a scene and that scene sets the stage for the next one. That means a feeding problem.

Begin slowly. Give the baby the first spoonful. Hand him the spoon and let him try a couple of mouthfuls. When the little hand begins to drop below the chin and the cereal streams down his neck, wipe him off gently and cheerfully, feed him the rest of his meal. Help him. Don't expect him to eat a whole bowl by himself at the start. Gradually, if you stand by to aid and applaud, he gains power and feeds himself alone.

In weaning a child from his bottle begin gradually. Give him occasional sips of water, milk, gruel from a spoon. Do this before he has reached a conscious liking for his bottle and refuses any other form of feeding. Begin when he begins to hold his head up and go steadily, persistently from there. By the time he is two he will feed himself rather well. If you wait until he is two before you start to take away his bottle you will have trouble and plenty of it. He has formed a fondness for that bottle. It is a symbol of comfort, companionship, love, to him. If you had trained him to get that feeling from several other forms of feeding, accustomed him to change, he would give you no trouble at all. But you have to spread this training over a considerable period. Know what you are doing and why and go on steadily, slowly forward step by step. The mistake most of us make is in waiting too long. We keep the child an infant for a longer period than necessary and then we want to change overnight. That isn't done with success.

Children do not grow up overnight. They have no sudden turns. The things that seem to happen suddenly have been in preparation for many days and months. His growth is gradual and it is based on sound causes, good or bad, according to the conditions. We have to be on guard to make certain as possible that the step by step preparation that is going on his a good end in its cause.

This applies to all training, mental and physical. Sudden spurts, sharp right-about, quick results, are foreign to child growth. They are not sound and they will not succeed. Step by step is the rule. Look ahead, plan, work gently and patiently and wait. There is no other way.

TRANSPORT WHIPS SUBS

On July 8, 1918, a transport ship returning to the United States from France was attacked by eight German submarines in the Bay of Biscay. Outnumbered as the ship was, she succeeded in escaping the subs and in sinking one of them. An accompanying destroyer sank another.

French forces, strengthened by American reserves, and heartened by previous successes, staged a strong attack in the edge of the forest of Villers-Cotterets, and broke through the German lines on a front of about two miles.

Australians, too, had a successful day, carrying their line forward along the Somme river for a depth of 600 feet along a front of about a mile and a half.

Miss Lula Minter's friends were congratulating her upon her reelection as corresponding secretary of the California Christian Endeavor at the annual convention held in Sacramento. Long Beach was chosen as the 1919 convention city.

The Standard Oil company's Murphy property near Fullerton, was one of the busiest places in the Southern California oil field, with drilling under way on nine different wells. The combined output of the southern field was 60,000 barrels daily, of which the Murphy and Emery leases made more than half.
